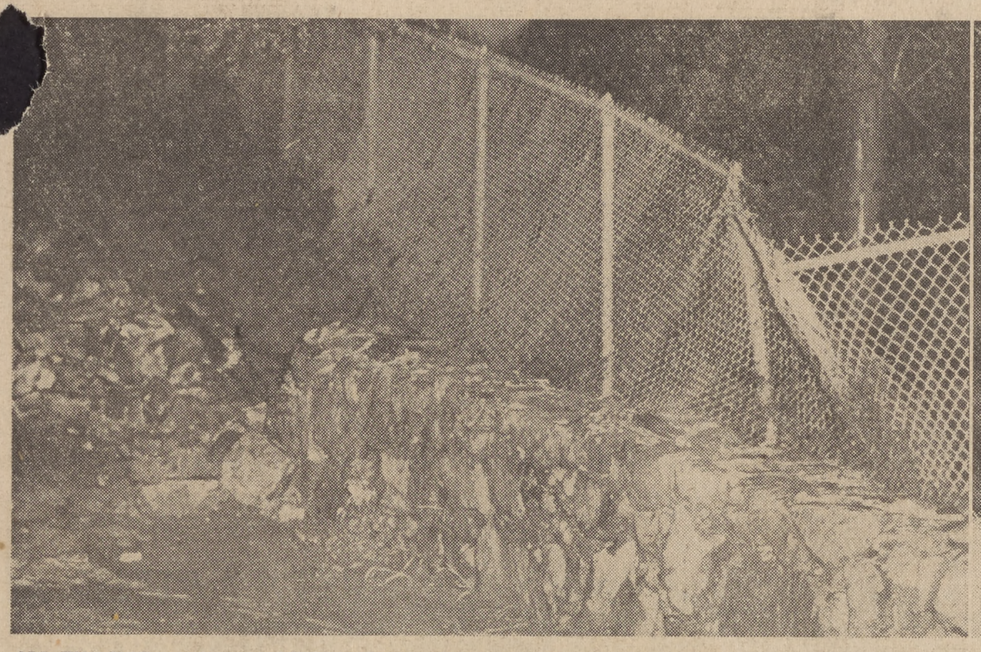
Orinda Suffers Damage to Roads, Homes



ALL WAS NOT sweetness and light in Orinda. Although the community was spared a great deal of serious flood damage, slides took their toll, as can be seen by the condition of this fence in Sleepy Hollow.—All Sun flood pictures by Richard Morse.

ROADS WERE HIT hard in Orinda, too, and many areas were practically cut off from access to the outside area. In many cases, residents must detour for miles to arrive at their homes. This portion of missing road is also in Sleepy Hollow.

THE DOG IS about the only 'person' who seems to be enjoying the flood situation. This shot was taken in the Walnut Boulevard area of Walnut Creek. Mrs. A. G. Ford has her slacks rolled up and Michael Hair is prepared, with boots.

THE LUCKY PEOPLE had boats, and they needed them as you can see by the depth to which the water comes on the men wading out to help evacuate homeowners in Walnut Creek. This hard hit area was in the Brentwood subdivision of Walnut Creek, just south of the city.

PLEASANT HILL was hardest hit in the residential areas, as can be seen by this view of a stalled car in the Gregory Gardens area. The owner is doing his best to keep dry, and found himself perched on top of his sedan, as did many other residents who were surprised by the sudden rise in flood waters.

A DISCONSOLATE young man wades out of a Gregory Gardens subdivision with belongings under his arms. He found himself in the position of hundreds of other residents who were forced out of their homes and had to evacuate with what they could carry..— All Sun flood photos by Richard Morse.

Bridges, Roads Washed Out Hundreds Out of Homes

By DICK OSBORN

Floods causing uncounted millions of dollars worth of damage and ruin have left Central Contra Costa County in a near state of shock.

Thousands of residents, who still have not realized the total extent of the damage, are recounting incidents which occurred in their neighborhoods, both to themselves and their neighbors.

Until Wednesday noon, damage was spread fairly evenly throughout the county, with the edge going to the Orinda-Lafayette area because of the heavy toll taken by mud slides.

But at 4 p.m. Wednesday Walnut Creek and subsidiary waterways reached a flood stage of 20.25 feet and catastrophy struck the Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill area.

AT THE SAME TIME, hundreds of rain soaked hillsides throughout the area gave way, causing roads to be swept away, foundations to slide, and business establishments and homes to be invaded by slick, slippery mud—by the ton.

When the creeks reached flood stage, tons of water cascaded down hillsides, roads, and all available channel, regardless of homes and establishments, and in a few hours, turned an orderly area into a sea of wreckage and mud.

In the Walden-Cherry Lane area of Walnut Creek the water was flowing through some houses at window level.

Many residents, taken by surprise by the sudden rise of the waters, were stranded on top of their automobiles which were stalled in water which reached above the hood.

MERCHANTS WERE frantically sandbagging entrances to stores and markets in an effort to keep the water from damaging merchandise, but in most cases the water crested so rapidly that all attempts to keep it out were futile.

In Orinda, flooding was at a minimum, but the Sleepy Hollow section was cut off from all communication for three hours because of the heavy flow of flood waters across Sleepy Hollow Lane.

Homes on Van Tassel Lane suffered flooded basements and garages.

The Central Orinda Fire Station found its basement under water with telephone communications equipment flooded and only emergency lines available for fire calls.

Rheem Center merchants battled a temporary flood and managed to keep stores dry until the water subsided.

BUT FURTHER downstream, the effects of the gathering flood waters became apparent.

In Lafayette stores and homes in the LaFiesta section were swept with water and mud.

And bizzare incidents happened, too. A slide hit St. Mary's road about a half-mile from the college towards Lafayette and deposited a tree in the center of the highway. The tree remained standing, upright, as if planted there.

Brook Street, where it joins Dewing Avenue, was completely swept away, taking with it the foundations of a new apartment house which had just been poured.

In Walnut Creek, at the confluence of Tice Valley Creek and Walnut Creek, three feet of water swept through the city without warning.

KAISER FOUNDATION Hospital was inundated temporarily, causing the shifting of patients to drier sections of the institution.

Broadway Shopping Center merchants sandbagged their stores in an effort to keep dry, but extensive damage was caused to most places of business, including Penney's and Sterling Furniture which had flooded basements, Capwell's, which closed and Smith's, among others.

All are open today.

Main Street merchants were flooded, without exception, and only those fortunate enough to have sandbags on hand were able to keep damage to a minimum.

Locust and Main Streets were completely blocked off, with a routing of traffic over Oakland Boulevard.

Lakewood Lake overflowed, causing residents of that area to move their furniture to dry storage in an attempt to alleviate damage.

But downstream, in Walden, and further, in Gregory Gardens, true flood conditions occurred, with water flowing through houses at the three and four foot level.

THE WALNUT CREEK- Pleasant Hill freeway was under a foot of water with timbers torn from fences and garden projects lying in the roadway.

The Walden Bridge over Walnut Creek was under a foot of water.

The Doray-Elinora-Mary Drive sections of Gregory Gardens were covered with water to the extent that residents were being evacuated by National Guard Trucks, the only vehicles which could navigate the flooded streets without stalling.

Motels throughout the area were immediately filled by families seeking shelter for the night and emergency evacuation centers were established in Parkmead School in Walnut Creek and in the Concord Recreation Center and the Concord National Guard Armory.

The County Civil Defense Organization was activated at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday and emergency measures were put into effect.

HAM RADIO operators patrolled the flooded areas and radioed calls for assistance to the central communications center on Arnold Industrial Highway, from which help was sent.

County Jail prisoners were pressed into service filling sandbags which were rushed by county workers to be leagured residents.

Public Works Department employees were advised of flood conditions in each sector by the County Flood Control District in an effort to warn residents and provide any available relief measures.

And throughout the county, fire departments, sheriff's office substations and police departments were flooded with calls for help from desperate homeowners, but generally there was little that could be done.

When the flood waters crested, it hapepned so rapidly that aid could not be provided in time, and what could be provided was like trying to stop a leak in a dam with a matchstick.

FIRE APPARATUS could not get close enough to flooded homes to pump out basements, and equipment could not be dispatched to help the thousands of homeowners who needed help without seriously weakening the available fire-fighting force in case of other emergency.

But most residents took the tragedy in stride, with smiles on their faces and work tools in their hands.

Like the man, marching up Main Street in Walnut Creek, barefooted and with trousers rolled up to his knees, and with a bottle of fortified liquid in his hand—and a smile on his face.

Cal Students Visit Here

Fifteen graduate students from the University of California School of Librarianship visited county library headquarters in the Hall of Records, Martinez, branch libraries in El Cerrito, San Pablo, El Sobrante, Orinda, and the bookmobile on its scheduled stop in Moraga on Saturday, March 22.

The visiting students are enrolled in the class in municipal and county library administration.

Mrs. Bertha Hellum, County Librarian, conducted the tour with the assistance of Miss Ruth Turner and Miss Marcella Desmond of the County Library Headquarters Staff.

In addition to visiting the county libraries, the students were taken to the Richmond Public Library and one of the Richmond branch libraries.

Troop 313

The Orinda fifth graders of Troop 313 invited another Girl Scout Troop, 31, a Brownie troop, and all their mothers to an international meeting at the Scout House last month.

Irmgard Seiber from Austria and Nettie Pearson from Sweden, high school students living in Orinda, were the guest speakers. Pat Hawkins, Joanne Davison and Lorrie Flenner were in the color guard.

The pledge of allegiance and Girl Scout Promise were led by Karen Johnson, and the songs by Judy Hauer.

Cindy Saxe introduced the speakers, who described their lives at home, what they studied at school, games they played, and how they celebrate different holidays.

Refreshments, consisting of punch and cakes baked by the girls, were served before the meeting.

Mrs. Newman Seeks School Board Post

Mrs. Frances Newman, of 53 Acacia Drive, Orinda, this week filed as a candidate for the Orinda School Board, in the Elementary District election to be held on May 20.

In announcing her candidacy Mrs. Newman, an Orinda resident for over seven years, stated, "I am placing my name before the voters at the request of many Orinda friends who know of my long standing interest in our schools. I believe that my training and experience will enable me to contribute to the work of the Board. Events of the past year have demonstrated that our school affairs reflect not merely the growth of our community, and its continuing need for buildings and equipment, but also the whole nation's interest in the quality of its school systems."

Mrs. Newman continued, "I believe that liaison between parents and school administrators is helped by a mother's presence on the board. Now that the board's only woman member is retiring, I also believe that at least one new board member should be available for daytime duties."

A graduate of Stanford, Mrs. Newman has been active in Orinda's school affairs. Last year she was publicity chairman and board member of the Orinda Mothers Club. She was also the first chairman of the Parents Curriculum Committee, a group appointed in 1956 at the request of local school administrators to examine, with them, the schools' curriculum.

At present she is on the Steering Committee for Educating Gifted Children, appointed last spring by the Orinda and Lafayette School Boards.

Her regular attendance at school board meetings, as an observer, began before 1955 when she was school affairs representative of the Orinda Estates Homeowners Association, an organization she has served also as board member and secretary.

The Newman family moved to Orinda in January 1951. There are four children who, at local schools have covered the span from prekindergarten to 10th grade.

Cub Scout, Girl Scout, and Nursery School duties have been among Mrs. Newman's other activities, along with United Crusade, Library, and Scout fund drives. Her husband, Frank, is an attorney and faculty member at the University of California Law School.

Car Hits Home, Orinda Pair, Child, Unhurt

[illegible] Orinda couple and their two year old daughter narrowly escaped injury last Saturday when a car, bearing three youth crashed into their Overhill Road home.

Uninjured were Earl P. Boles, 42, 321 Overhill Road, his wife, Joy, 29, and the couple's daughter, Debbie, who was sleeping in a bedroom only a few feet from the porch which was struck by the auto.

Driver of the car was Thomas A. Talbott, 21, 25 Moraga Via, who suffered only slight injuries. Two passengers, Allan Stribley, 20, 30 Moraga Highway, and James A. Little, 19, 35 Underhill Road, were uninjured.

The car, travelling at high speed, veered out of control, and rolled over into the home, causing about $1,000 damage, police said.

Medical Office Building OK'd

The County Board of Adjustment has granted approval of Robert L. Klemmendson to establish a medical office building at the northeast corner of Santa Maria Wau and San Pablo Dam Road in Orinda.

Moraga Pool Contract Let

The Moraga Valley Pool Association announced this week that a contract has been awarded Bedavn Construction Company for the construction of the Moraga Valley Pool.

The facility, to be situated on seven acres nestled in a secluded valley near the Miramonte High School and purchased from the Utah Construction Company, will be the largest and most unusual in the area.

The shape of the pool will be somewhat different than the conventional in that it is designed in the shape of a "Z."

One large offset will be reserved for waders and non-swimmers, while the opposite offset is planned for divers on both high and low boards, leaving the 75 ft. by 35 ft. center section for the exclusive use of swimmers.

Surrounding the bath-house will be an expanse of concrete decking and lawn providing an extensive sunbathing area. The landscaping, as being prepared by Architect Robert Graves, will blend the installation nicely into the neighborhood, while a new idea combining chain Cyclone fencing and redwood will give security and add beauty.

A landscaped driveway will lead into a secluded parking area below the level of the pool, with accommodations for 115 cars.

Memberships are limited to 300 and sell for $250, plus $50 Federal excise tax. With less than 20 memberships available, it is anticipated a waiting list will be in effect before the pool is completed at the end of June.

Jim Roberts, chairman of the membership committee of 216 Ivy Drive, DRake 6-5524, or Bob Wendorf, 6 Corte del Rey, DRake 6-4798, will accept applications until the remaining memberships are sold.

Orinda School Parents Meeting Set Wednesday

An organization meeting of the Parents Club of the Orinda Union School will be held on Wednesday at 7:45 p.m. in the School Auditorium.

Reports will be received from the by-laws and nominating committees. The by-laws will be reviewed by the membership at the April meeting and will be voted on in May. Also at the May meeting election of officers will be held and there will be an opportunity for nominations from the floor.

There will be copies of the proposed by-laws at the school library for those who wish to review them before the April 9 meeting.

SUPERVISORS DECLARE COUNTY DISASTER

More Rain May Be on Way; Central Area Digs Out

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors met in emergency session yesterday morning to declare the county in a state of disaster.

Even as they were hearing reports from department heads Vietor Sauer, head of the Department of Public Works, had to leave to provide emergency direction at a disaster scene, and Sheriff Harry Brown was called from the session to combat a flood retreat in the river area of the county.

Adding to the worries of the board, and county residents in general, was the forecast of the United States Weather Bureau central office in San Francisco which offered a 60 per cent chance that rain will again hit the area tomorrow.

Weather Bureau Officials stated that showers would probably continue through today, although diminishing, but that there is a possibility of a new storm which is moving in from the Aleutian Islands.

THEY DID OFFER the optimistic statement that if the rains do come, they will not be as heavy as the storms which just passed through the area causing the flooding.

Public officials noted that the flood threat is now greater than it has been at any time during the past 46 years.

Meanwhile, county workers kept a worried eye on the creeks and streams as they bent to the task of cleaning up some of the damage.

Every piece of heavy equipment available was pressed into service to remove trees and clear creeks in an effort to hasten the flow of flood waters from the area.

The County Civil Defense Organization went into operation at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, coordinating the efforts of all county departments and disaster relief agencies, such as the Red Cross.

OVER 400 SHERIFF'S RESERVE responded to the call for action, many of them leaving their places of employment. They were deployed from Orinda to the Eastern part of the county, helping in rescue work, traffic control and in the removal of flooded citizens.

The National Guard responded with 150 Guardsmen from Concord who used heavy equipment to evacuate the flooded residents of Pleasant Hill.

The Contra Costa Flood Control District stated that the peak stage of the main channel of Walnut Creek reached 20.25 feet at 4 p.m. Wednesday, and added that after waters had subsided, another rain of four or five hours, could again bring flood conditions.

Extensive damage was reported from every section of the Central County Area. There were no official estimates of the total damage, and reports were incomplete in all county departments.

Information was slowly trickling in to county and district offices, fire stations, Sheriff's substations, but it was sketchy and incomplete.

FIRE STATIONS in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill were unable to keep a log of their calls during the flood, and could only hold themselves in readiness in case of actual disaster or fire.

They could not respond to most calls for assistance with flooded basements because they could not get equipment close enough to the homes, and besides there was little place to pump the water.

The County Public Works Department was unable to give an estimated damage to county roads because their crews were still on the job yesterday after working all through the night in an attempt to keep traffic moving into and out of the flooded areas.

Road damage was heaviest in Orinda where many residents had to detour miles around slides to get to their homes, and one section of Orinda was cut off from all communication for several hours.

SLIDES OCCURRED all along Mt. Diablo Boulevard, from the Tunnel to Walnut Creek, and where slides did not slow traffic, mud and water did. For several hours the highway was almost impassable between central Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

A section of the new Lafayette Bypass was reported to have buckled, although it is still passable. The State Division of Highways was unable, as of yesterday afternoon, to compile a list of damage to State roads in Central Contra Costa County.

All authorities agreed that the total damage, although unassessable until reports are compiled, is far above the damage caused by the 1955 floods, and those were in excess of $3 millions.

In accord with these estimates, the County Board of Supervisors has petitioned the Federal Government for emergency flood control and rehabilitation money, declaring the area in a state of disaster.

Specific examples of the effect of the flood, and action taken in the central area of the county include:

WORK THROUGHOUT the night, under flood lights, by the Public Works Department in an effort to clear Las Trampas Creek in Lafayette.

Patrol of the county by amateur radio "hams" who were in constant contact with the County Civil Defense Office in Martinez. This flow of communications allowed the civil defense group to coordinate rescue and emergency work with the representatives of county departments, including Public Works and Health and Sheriff's office, which were standing by.

Road crews could be seen in all areas of the county, especially Lafayette and Orinda, marking slides and wash-outs with flares in an effort to warn motorists of serious danger.

The Central Contra Costa Sanitary District lost a 21 inch line between Orinda and Lafayette which carried some 11 millions of gallons of sewage a day. The entire system was completely inundated and could only overflow into the creeks and channels which carried the refuse off to San Pablo Bay.

AT ONE TIME the general water level was within 9 inches of the floor level of the treatment plant in Pacheco, which meant that water level was maintained all the way out to San Plablo Bay.

Serious as the disaster was, all county authorities were in unamimous agreement that things would have been far worse had there not been complete cooperation between workers, volunteers and outside agencies.

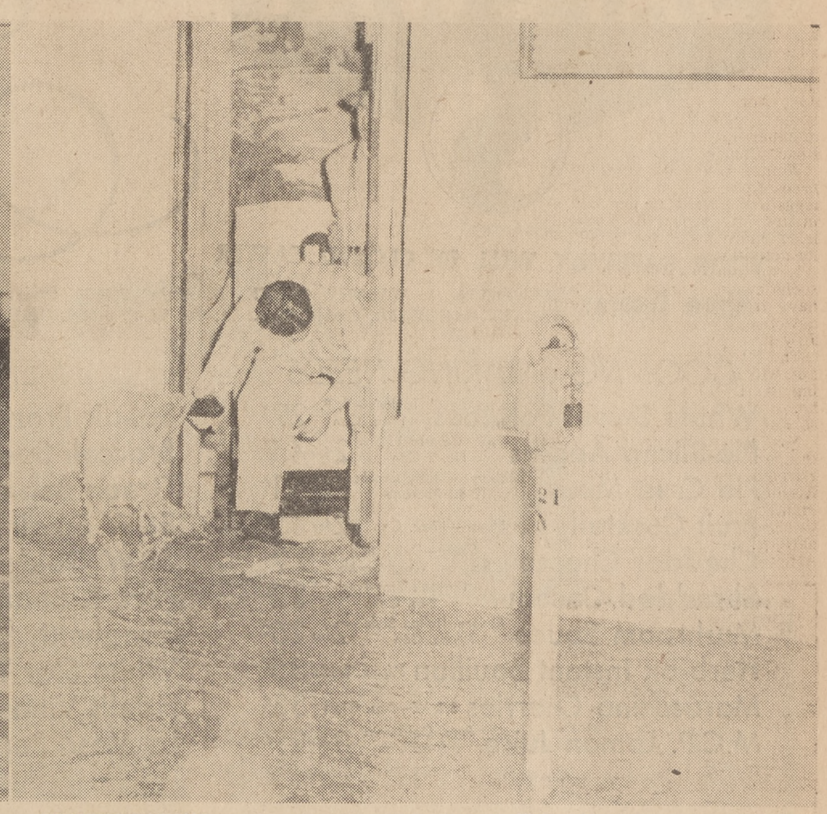
The central communications system set up by Civil Defense operated without a hitch, according to Eleanor Daly, information officer, and provided the county offices with direct contact with crews in the flooded areas.

Praise was offered to thousands of residents who pitched in and helped neighbors and county crews in an effort to lessen the flood damage and evacuate residents, and to the hundreds of volunteers who took a semi-official capacity, such as Sheriff's Reserves, Red Cross workers, City Police Department Reserves, and others.

BUT STILL, mute evidence of the flood remains in every section of the county. Roads are still flanked by soaked, abandoned cars, and mute oil flares mark soggy slides which block access to entire areas.

It will be a long job asessing the damage and cleaning up the county.

MANY WOMEN AND CHILDREN who found themselves stranded by rising flood waters had to be evacuated from Walnut Creek areas by boat. Here, a volunteer helps a family from the flooded Brentwood subdivision south of the city.



FRANTIC BAILING was in order along Main Street in Walnut Creek in an attempt to keep stores dry. Shortly after this picture was taken the water climbed even higher, and even bailing became useless. Time is up on the parking meter, too, but there weren't many cars parked along Main Street Wednesday.

Floods, Mudslides Cause Damage, Evacuations

Five inches of rainfall in the previous two days found many Orinda residents Thursday evacuating their homes, countless other tallying damages as the rains subsided, at least a dozen roads fully-blocked and travel on others impaired, and mud slides still periling countless residences.

The Hightowers, who have worked for years on the home, were heartbroken and evacuating on Thursday. On Wednesday, the entire hill, on which the home is situated, began moving.

Another evacuee was Mrs. Pat Edwards, also of Alta Vista, whose home was in jeopardy from the shifting hill.

JACK BARRON, WHOSE home is on the crest of a hill near the Hightower home, was also reported to be in danger from the shifting landscape.

By press time Thursday, these cases of reported damage. However, the Orinda Fire Department reported that firemen had been at work most of the day Wednesday and were still working Thursday to aid homeowners in moving furniture and belongings out of their endangered homes.

Flooding of homes, though extensive, was not reported to be as much of a threat as the widespread mudslides which, at their best, caused many a resident a sore back from shoveling mud, and, at worst, caused loss of homes and thousands of dollars in property damage.

THE ORINDA FIRE DEPARTMENT listed 11 Orinda area less others were bogged down with mud or partially blocked by water and mudslides.

Listed as totally blocked Thursday were Alta Vista, La Encinal, El Toyanal, La Esperal, Normandy Lane, Via Floreda, Miner Road, Diablo iVew, St. Stephen's Drive, Montevida and Dos Osos.

Fish Ranch Road was also reported to be closed to traffic.

A mud slide across El Toyanal was reported to be endangering a year-old home there. The gate to Sleepy Hollow was closed Wednesday night because of a gap in the road caused by the torrential rains. Also Ridge Lane, near Lombardy, was partially isolated.

Extensive damage was caused to the Diablo iVew property of publisher Alan Giellerup, who only a day before had ushered in the initial edition of his new magazine "The Diablo View."

GIELLERUP REPORTED that about 150 yards of his property had been washed away and could block the road.

In another instance of extensive property damage the unoccupied five-room home of Donald Stegman, Happy Valley, was damaged when a mud slide went into the bedroom and kitchen of the home.

Week's rainfall was listed as 7.95 inches, second heaviest rainfall in the past decade in the recollection of Orinda weather recorder Arthur Bowman. Bowman said the heaviest rainfall since 1944 was in December of 1955, when 10 inches fell in one week, bringing the year's total to 44.94 inches.

However, Bowman explained, this year's rainfall total already stands at 48.76 inches, with more rain to ome before the season ends in July.

Chamber to Investigate Additional Parking Sites

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce is now investigating means by which the Orinda Parking District can acquire either or both of two parcels of land to provide off-street parking for commuters and business district employees.

Currently under consideration, according to Chamber member and Parking District Commissioner John Ogden, are:

1. The portion of Orinda Way which will be abandoned by the county when the new freeway is completed.

2. The bottom end of the Orinda Association's community property at the southwest corner of the Crossroads.

Of primary interest to the Chamber at this point, Ogden said Thursday, is the portion of highway which will be abandoned when the road is diverted in another direction, leaving a section of the present road which wil be unused.

A CHAMBER committee was instructed this week to investigate means of acquiring additional parking property, particularly that portion of Orinda Way which is to be abandoned as a roadway.

The assistance of the county district attorney will be solicited, Ogden said, since the road property belongs to the county.

Ogden said the Chamber will attempt to do nothing in the way of acquiring additional parking space but will merely encourage its acquisition and investigate means by which it may be acquired by the parking district.

In the instance of the Orinda Association property, Ogden said approximately 300 parking spaces could be provided. Number of spaces which could be provided on Orinda Way has not been estimated, Ogden said.

Improvement of either parcel for parking, Ogden said, would have to be done by a bond issue in the parking district. He estimated that a bond issue of between $15,000 and $30,000 would be necessary to grade and pave the Orinda Association land.

THE CHAMBER'S MOVE to investigate acquisition of the parking property came following a round-table discussion at this week's Chamber meeting. Participants in the round-table were Ogden, Ernest Poll, Ramsay Underwood, and Sun publisher Herman Silverman.

In other Chamber business, Al Baer of the merchants' committee reported that the committee has invited all merchants and businessmen to a dinner meeting April 22 at the Casa Orinda. At that time, he said, plans for business promotion for the coming 12 months will be formulated.

Also, Baer said, the committee will meet Wednesday at Sprouse Reitz at 10 a.m. All chamber members are invited, Baer said.

President Maynard Buehler noted that the Rotary Club has invited all Chamber members to the Wednesday Rotary meeting when a representative of the U. S Chamber of Commerce will speak.

Clarence Betz discussed the problem of the new utility pole in front of the Central Valley Bank. Betz stated that the pole cuts down sidewalk space in front of the bank. Betz was instructed to find out what can be done to move or remove the pole.

Chamber member John Ogden urged that all stores close from noon until 3 p.m. on Good Friday.

All's Quiet On Moraga Plan Front

All's quiet on the Burton Shopping Center front, according to one spokesman for the many Burton area residents who have voiced their opposition to Utah construction company's proposal for the 9-acre center in the south Lafayette region.

Bill Dyer, who was the main spokesman for the opponents of the center at the last County Planning Commission session on the matter last week, stated Thursday, "We're just sitting tight until we see which way the Planning Commission is going to jump."

A week ago Tuesday, at the third session on the controversial shopping center proposal, and other matters in the massive Moraga Master Plan, the planning commissioners announced that a decision would be due on April 28.

"Until we find out what that decision is," Dyer said, "we feel there's no point in approaching the commissioners any further."

Meanwhile, in the only other recent activity concerning the shopping center proposal, the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors this week voted unanimously in opposition to the center and forwarded a copy of their resolution to the Planning Commission.

Gerald Funk Rites Held

Services were held Thursday, at 2 p.m. at the Orinda Community Church for Gerald Richard Funk, 90 Scenic Drive, Orinda.

Gerald died Monday at Children's Hospital after a short illness. He was five years old.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Funk; one brother, Robert James Funk; and grandparents Mrs. Frieda Isler and Mrs. Robert Isler of Portland, Ore., and Mr. Harry Funk of Prescott, Ariz.

He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Edwards of Oakland.

The Rev. Chauncey Blossom of the Orinda Community Church will officiate and interment will be at the Oakmont Memorial Park Cemetery in Lafayette.

Arrangements are by the Chapel of the Valley, Lafayette.

Shoppers Get Auto Mail Box

Mrs. Laura Mallory announced this week that a new "snorkel-type" drop box will be installed soon by Ogden's in the Village Shopping Center.

The box will enable motorists to pull up to it and deposit mail from the driver's side of the car. Collections will be about 3:30 or 4 p.m., Mrs. Mallory said.

Registration Set for Local School Youths

Beginning on April 9 registration will be held in the Orinda School District for children who will enter kindergarten and first grade this fall.

Children who have attended kindergarten in the district, need not register for first grade, according to district superintendent J. L. Sheaff.

Dates and places of registration are: April 8 and 9, Del Rey School; April 10 - 11, Glorietta School; April 15-16, Sleepy Hollow School; April 17-18, Orinda School. All registration times are from 9 a.m. until noon.

Parents should bring birth certificates as children must be at least four years and nine months old to enter kindergarten or five years and nine months old to enter first grade, Sheaff said.

Parents are also requested to bring the child's record of inoculations and are asked to be prepared to state the names and telephone numbers of the family doctor and a neighbor who may be notified in case of emergency if the parent cannot be reached.

Orinda Skier, Others Saved

An Orinda university student was back home again this week after she and three fellow-Stanford students were rescued from the wind-swept saddle of an 11,500-foot High Sierra peak by an Army helicopter Monday.

Back at her home on La Noria Drive in Orinda was Lenore D. Lamb, 21, who was in good spirits despite her four-day isolation on the frosty peak while the vacationing students were on a ski trip.

Still under treatment for an acute respiratory infection was William Pope, 22, San Francisco. The remaining two skiers, Margaret Myer, 21, of Seattle, and Michael M. Roberts, 21, of Neenah, Wis. were healthy and in good spirits despite the ordeal.

After blinding snow storms and fogs hampered earlier rescue efforts, the four skiers were snatched from the icy peak Monday by an Army 'copter early Monday morning.

The group were returned to Camp Curry where Pope was sped to Lewis Memorial Hospital in the valley.

The stranded skiers had planned their cross-country expedition for the Stanford spring recess and had carefully detailed their plans with authorities at Yosemite headquarters.

When they reached Lyell Fork Basin a week ago Tuesday they were assailed by bitter storms and there Pope became ill. As Pope's sickness became worse, they carried him to a safer ledge, a mile away.

Orinda Businessmen Asked To Sales Promotion Meet

Al Baer, chairman of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce merchants' committee, this week extended an invitation to all businessmen to attend a meeting of retail merchants at 6:30 p.m. April 22 at the Casa Orinda.

Baer said that all business people, whether members of the chamber or non-members, are invited to the session which will center on the formulation of plans for stimulating business for the coming year.

Baer said, "We urge all Orinda businessmen to attend this very important meeting. We are now making plans on how to stimulate business in Orinda during the coming 12 months and we want your ideas and suggestions now."

Baer continued, "Too often some of our business people fail to attend meetings and don't present suggestions. Then, after the year's program is formulated they criticize it. This meeting will afford the opportunity for everyone's suggestions to be heard."

Baer said that a proposed merchandising program for Orinda be open for revision at the suggestion of those attending.

"The tentative program," Baer said, "has been developed at recent meetings of the merchants' division. There will be another meeting at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the directors' room of the Sprouse Reitz store. All businessmen are invited."

Board Give Go Ahead On Library Construction

The Orinda Library Board has awarded a contract and given the go sign to a construction company to begin work on the library as soon as weather and soil conditions permits.

Perc S. Brown, Orinda, president of the board, also announced that the low bid accepted at the bid opening last Friday will enable the board to shave $3,000 off the apparent price of the project.

With the $3,000 savings, Brown said, the goal has been reduced from $120,000 to $117,000. He said that $16,000 remains to be raised.

Low bidder on the library building was C. Overaa and Co. of Richmond. President Brown said that the contract has been signed and "the contractor is required to start constrution within two weeks, weather and soil conditions permitting."

Clarence P. Overaa, president of the construction company, is an Orinda resident and lives at 293 Glorietta Boulevard.

IN OTHER MATTERS concerning the library, Brown stated, "The cost of landscaping has never been included in any of our figures. Also, certain other items were excluded from our figures to reduce costs. Since these items are needed and desirable, we herewith present an opportunity for Orinda organizations, families, and individuals to underwrite the cost of any specific item or items."

Among items which are open, Brown said, are:

Tile wainscoting in restrooms, including installation, $600; fixed display case, $500; moveable display case for exhibits, $600; bronze letters for the library sign, $350; flagpole, $350; garden sculptures, as selected by the landscaping committee, $600; colored roof gravel, $250; and a bronze plaque, $450.

IN ORDER TO SIGN for any of the above projects, Brown said the following procedure should be followed:

"The contributor agrees in writing to Orinda Library Building Fund, PO Box 254, Orinda, to contribute the actual cost up to the stated maximum as listed above for the iem he selects. The building fund will, on or before June 15, ascertain the exact cost and, at that time, ask for that cost in cash.

"Letters of intent to contribute for a specific item should be mailed as quickly as possible but, in no event, later than April 30. Please help us by specifying your first and second choices.

"In the event of duplication the order of receipt of commitments will govern."

In conclusion, President Brown stated, "This community task will be made much easier if Orindans respond generously and promptly. Your library is launched. Let's finish the job!"

El Nido Turns Into Maternity Ward Suddenly

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fitman, 1336 Jenkinson, Concord, could have picked a better time to have their fifth child.

But Wednesday night, despite the roaring rains and flooded highways, Fitman had no alternative but to pack his wife into the car and head for Merritt Hospital in Oakland.

After two hours, Fitman was able to manuveur his car through the blinding rains only as far as the El Nido, between Lafayette and Orinda.

Time was growing short.

When the Fitman's entered the crowded night club, Hostess Nola Marshall didn't take long to ascertain that something had to be done and done quickly.

Mrs. Marshall and waitress Edna Johnson assisted Mrs. Fitman to Room 13 of the motel. In short fashion, late-evening diners were making way for the night club's personnel, who were scurrying about with pots of hot water and fresh table linen.

Twenty minutes after the Fitman's arrived at the El Nido, by about 8:20 p.m., they were parents of a healthy seven-pound, seven-ounce baby boy. They have four other children.

Shortly after the new arrival made his appearance the doctors arrived on the scene and took the infant to the hospital.

Superior Court Approves Sale Of Porter Lots

The Contra Costa County Superior Court this week ruled in favor of the F. F. Porter Company and against Real Estate Commissioner F. W. Griesinger in allowing the Porter Company to sell 158 lots in Oak Springs.

The court ruled that although the lots are not of the size set by an ordinance passed after the subdivision was made, and although some lots have no utilities, the Porter firm may sell them.

Another suit, brought by Contra Costa supervisor Melvin Nielsen, to prohibit the sale of the lots, was dismissed earlier.

Regarding the recent decision the court commented, "Admittedly, the petitioners (Porter and company) have committed no fraud . . . in fact, a complete disclosure of facts pertaining to the proposed manner of disposition of the property has been made by the petitioners in their submitted questionaire to the commissioner, and they have invited said official to correct or amend anything that, in his opinion, might be in the least misleading."

Here's Red Cross, CD Numbers for Emergency Aid

A state of emergency exists in Contra Costa County, and with the imminent possibility of more serious flooding the County Civil Defense Organizations and the Red Cross are mobilized and standing by to provide emergency assistance to any who may need it.

Here is the procedure:

In case of flood, or if you need emergency assistance, call the County Civil Defense office at Martinez 3000. They will dispatch vehicles to carry you to dry ground, and from there to an emergency center if necessary.

If you are separated from your family, call the same office and report your whereabouts. They will attempt to keep a record of such cases.

Emergency calls will also be handled for people of Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek and the southern portion of Pleasant Hill through the Walnut Creek Chapter House of the Red Cross. This office may be reached at YE 5-5817.

Gregory Gardens and other portions of Pleasant Hill may also call the Concord office of the Red Cross at MU 2-4464.

Emergency evacuation centers have been set up at Parkmead School in Walnut Creek and the Concord Recreation Center and the Concord Armory.

The Red Cross will provide dry emergency clothing, if needed, food and shelter.

CENTERPIECE SUGGESTION

For a fun-for-everyone centerpiece, plan an Easter egg hunt at the table. Borrow the kiddies' Easter basket and conceal a small gift for each person in the bottom. Tie one end of a colorful ribbon to each gift; trail the other end to a place setting. Top the basket, of course, with the usual gay paper and colored eggs. Each person "hunts" to the end of his or her ribbon and is rewarded with the find.

DYE EGGS THE EASY WAY

For "every color of the rainbow" eggs, get out your regular food color kit. Follow directions on the package for-blending colors and dyeing the eggs. Easy to do, even for the small fry. Add individual touches through the use of sequins, stars and strips of colored tape.

Kaiser-Drobac Vows Said At Santa Maria Church

Becky Ann Kaiser, daughter of the Edgar Kaisers, was wed to Martin Drobac Jr., Stanford law graduate, in ceremonies at Orinda's Santa Maria Catholic Church last Saturday.

In anticipation of Saturday's rain, a long, high canopy had been set up at the church so that the bridal party wouldn't get wet in leaving the church.

Edgar Kaiser escorted his daughter to the altar for the 2 p.m. service and the Rev. James Fogarty, a family friend from Portland, Ore., officiated at the nuptials.

The bride wore a full-skirted gown of white embroidered organdy, made a high, wide neckline, long sleeves and a fitted waistline. Her tulle veil was finger tip length and she carried lily of the valley.

THE PROCESSION preceding the father and the bride included Miss Kaiser's two sisters, Mrs. Raymond D. Wehle, who was matron of honor, and Gretchen Kaiser, who was a bridesmaid and later caught the bridal bouquet.

Others in procession were Mrs. Rick Curotto, Linda Fisher of San Marino, a classmate of the bride, Carla Trefethen, a classmate of the bride, Kathy Wehle, as her aunt's flower girl, and young Kim Kaiser, as ring bearer.

Gowns of the attendants were coral and white taffeta floral print models, worn with matching tulle hats with velvet bows. The girls carried white roses.

Nick Drobac stood with his brother at the altar as best man and ushers were Peter Drobac, another brother, Edgar Kaiser Jr. and Henry Mead Kaiser, brothers of the bride, Raymond D. Wehle, the bride's brother-in-law, and Rick Curatto.

MRS. EDGAR KAISER was in a floor length blue chiffon gown for her daughter's wedding while Mrs. Martin Drobac, the bridegroom's mother, was in a navy blue afternoon dress with an orchid corsage.

A small orchestra played for dancing at the wedding, the bride dancing with her bridegroom, then with her father, and later with her grandfather, Henry J. Kaiser, who had come from Honolulu for the wedding.

At the home of the bride's parents in Lafayette the newlyweds received in the patio in the center of the house, which had been roofed with plastic for the occasion.

In deference to the Lenten season, appointments at both the church and the home were simple.

Both the bride and bridegroom received their degrees from Stanford this month. Their future residence will be determined by Drobac's orders from the Army.

School Janitor Faces Arson Counts in Fires

A Lafayette school janitor, who confessed that he set two school blazes in order to prove his alertness to his employers, is being held today in Martinez on arson charges.

The arrest Tuesday of Earl Read McCarthy, 52, apparently cleared the cause of the recent $10,000 fire at Stanley School, where McCarthy was employed until arrested, and a 1953 blaze at Glorietta School in Orinda where McCarthy also was working at the time.

Meanwhile, Sheriff's personnel and special investigators were continuing questioning and lie detector tests in hopes that McCarthy might clear up several other arson cases, including three other blazes which occurred at schools at the time McCarthy was employed in them.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES said McCarthy, who lives with his wife at 668 28th Street, Oakland, admitted setting the January 31 blaze at Stanley School. Although damage from the fire is still being tallied, Lafayette Fire Marshall Robert Winkel estimated damage will run between $10,000 and $15,000.

Deputies said McCarthy also admitted setting off a blaze at Orinda's Glorietta School in January of 1955. The fire, in the school's multi - purpose room, caused an estimated $200 damage.

Sheriff's Inspector Norman Wilson said McCarthy was picked up for questioning Tuesday on the basis of investigation of Fire Marshall Winkel and Sheriff's detectives Louis Skuse and H. E. "Bud" Hobert.

At first, Wilson said, McCarthy was unwilling to admit any part in the two blazes. Later, after polygraph and lie detector tests showed he was not telling the truth, McCarthy began to reveal, bit-by-bit, his activities.

WILSON SAID, however, that McCarthy will not admit setting two other blazes at Glorietta School, in 1954, or a 1957 blaze at Lafayette School. Wilson said McCarthy had been employed at all three schools at the time of the fires, and, in several cases, had turned in the alarms which brought the firemen to squelch the fires.

Wilson listed McCarthy's motives in the fires as "personal gain" and said the suspect was emphatic in stating that he had been "desperate in regards to holding a better job."

In his statements, McCarthy reportedly said that he touched off the fires and reported them in order to show his superiors that he was alert, on the job, and deserving of a promotion. Inspector Wilson said McCarthy was earning $305 a month as janitor at Stanley School.

McCarthy, Wilson said, always set the fires after school was out and when there were no children in the buildings.

Two firemen were injured fighting the Stanley blaze.

McCarthy was arraigned in Walnut Creek Judicial District Court and taken to the county jail under $1,000 bond.

Two Safeway Managers Win New York Trip

Marvin Turner, manager of the Lafayette Safeway Store, and Louis Capra, manager of an Oakland Safeway Store, have been selected as outstanding managers by the organization and are being awarded air trips to New York.

Turner resides in Berkeley with his wife, Elizabeth, and Capra lives at 3223 Acalanes Avenue with his wife, Maryetta.

The two managers were among 28 Safeway managers who were declared winners in a company-wide contest to pick outstanding store managers, according to an announcement made by Quentin Reynolds, Walnut Creek, San Francisco division manager for Safeway.

The contest, which was open to all of the company's retail store managers in the United States and Canada, numbering more than 2000, was judged on the basis of sales performance, customer courtesy, cleanliness of stores, initiative and enterprise on special promotions.

Reynolds said the winners, several of whom will be accompanied by their wives, will be rewarded with company-paid all expense airplane tour to New York City. All award winning managers in the western part of the United States are being given a trip to New York where they will stay at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, and those managers receiving similar awards in the eastern area, are being given the same type trip to San Francisco where they will spend their visiting time as guests of the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

Reynolds said the trip for both the eastern and western managers will not be without its practical aspects since opportunity and provision is being made to permit some study of store operations carried on by their counterparts in the city visited.

To formalize the group honored from Northern California, Reynolds will play host at a special breakfast at the San Francisco International Airport on Saturday morning, April 12, and at which time other company executives will be on hand to wish the winners well on their eastern tour.

Stork on Fast Time, Daughter Born in Office

The stork got ahead of schedule last week, caused considerable consternation in the office of a local doctor, but left a healthy, 6 pound, 10 ounce daughter for Mr. and Mrs. John Skillman, 868 Solano Drive.

Skillman, who is employed by Irving Subway Grading in Oakland, received a hurried call on March 24 stating that his wife was expecting the stork any minute. Although the child, the Skillmans' fourth, wasn't expected for several weeks, Skillman decided to take no chances and asked neighbors to take Mrs. Skillman to the hospital.

As it turned out, time was short, and neighbors and Skillman had no sooner made it to the Moraga Road office of Dr. Clifford Feiler than the child was delivered, with the assistance of Skillman, the doctor and other volunteers.

According to Skillman, the new arrival, Janine Lisette, "is doing fine" despite her arrival three weeks ahead of schedule.

The Skillmans have three other children, two girls and a boy.

In the proclamation designating Realtor Week Governor Knight said, "California's population increases more than 40,000 persons each month, this figure representing new births and an unprecedented migration.

"This calls for a constant increase in housing, highway, school, and transportation facilities. People need and demand homes, churches, hospitals, recreational centers, and related services and facilities to make California the finest state in the nation.

"The Realtors of California, mindful of the fundamental heritage guaranteed to the individual under the Constitution — the inalienable right to enjoy property ownership—have met and are meeting this responsibility.

"Every time a movement is initiated to establish a new community of homes, they have been foremost in seeing to it that men, women, and children are properly housed and that the attendant commercial enterprises are provided.

Rheem Post Office Backers Win a Round

Those favoring the Rheem Post Office chalked up a few points recently when Congressman John F. Baldwin revealed that he would recommend an independent Rheem post office if most of the residents in the vicinity favor the continuation of the Rheem office.

Baldwin said he has received petitions circulated by the "Room for Rheem" committee, signed by 325 persons, together with all the business firms in Rheem Shopping Center.

He said, however, he wished a breakdown of the names in order to determine the exact number of persons living near Rheem who desire the independent Rheem Post Office.

Children of the congregation are asked to bring small bouquets to form a cross of flowers at the 9:30 service, together with their Easter season mite boxes, the contents of which will be used in Episcopal missionary work throughout the world.

At the Floral Cross service, young members of the St. Stephen's Junior Choir will sing the Dutch carol, "Awake, Thou Wintry Earth," arranged by K. K. Davis.

God's Goodness Is Christian Science Topic

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (243:32-3): "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error."

Controlled Manufacturing Is Vital Necessity

More and more individuals in Central Contra Costa County are coming to realize the need for controlled manufacturing facilities in the area.

An increasing number of residents are coming to realize the effect that controlled manufacturing has on our tax base.

The Contra Costa County Planning Commission has under consideration an application from Utah Construction Company to increase the number of acres in its Moraga holdings from the present 188 acres zoned for controlled manufacturing to an additional 100 to 150 acres.

THE SUN IS in favor of the location of controlled manufacturing in Moraga, especially in some of the areas now under consideration for zoning to controlled manufacturing, specifically some of the more isolated areas to the West of Moraga townsite.

The problem is not new. People will say that they are in favor of controlled manufacturing, but they will hastily add, "not on my street, or in my neighborhood."

When it is suggested that controlled manufacturing occupy an empty parcel of land, an immediate series of screams can be heard from neighbors who state, "no, that's too close to my house."

BUT THE FACT remains, if you are going to have controlled manufacturing you have got to locate the industries somewhere.

In actuality, there is very little land left in Central Contra Costa County that is available to controlled manufacturing. There are very few parcels that are large enough, or where the facilities can be developed.

Certainly there is practically none in Orinda, and Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill are becoming increasingly "filled up."

Now, there is a completely undeveloped area in Moraga, most of it owned by Utah Construction Company. If controlled manufacturing were planned now for certain areas in Moraga, it would not be stepping on the toes of an "established community" in the sense of encroaching upon homes which are built and occupied.

TO US, IT SEEMS that Utah Construction Company should have the increase acreage zoned for controlled manufacturing. Much of the area they are seeking to have zoned in this manner is tucked back into the hills and will inconvenience very few people, if any.

One objection that has been stated regards the increased traffic problems that such installations would bring with them.

However, it seems to us, that many of our roads are in a transitional stage right now and will have to be improved, certainly, to handle the traffic provided by a fairly heavily populated Moraga valley.

In addition, by the time these developments are completed, the Shepherd Canyon Freeway will probably be completed, which will undoubtedly take much of the burden from exitsing roads.

It appears entirely logical that the requests of the Utah Construction Company for an increase in controlled manufacturing area in Moraga valley should be granted.

We suggest that the County Planning Commission and the Board of Supervisors study the matter with seriousness and consideration, and then agree to the additional zoning as requested by Utah.

IT WILL BENEFIT the entire area, not just Moraga. It will help the tax base of the county, and will provide some sort of cushion for our ever increasing tax bills.

It will benefit residents in Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Orinda. The Sun recommends that it be so established.

And while there isn't much land available for controlled manufacturing in other areas of Central Contra Costa County, it might be well for those who are concerned with their tax bills to take a careful look around.

Each step in this direction is a step in the right direciton . . . and it doesn't look as if costs are going to go down by themselves.

Think We'll Get Much Rain?

By DICK OSBORN

Do You Think it will rain this winter?

One of my friends (?) asked me this earlier this week, and I really couldn't think of a suitable reply, offhand.

I could only think of the patio full of mud that is cosily nesting behind my house.

And the acre-feet of water I've seen running down the Orinda streets and cascading merrily off of what were once lawns and have turned into a beautiful mixture of brown mud and green spaghetti.

And the lovely, oozy landslides and mud slips that dot the Lafayette area.

And those areas in Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, which are not quite under water, but which are dotted with lovely homes that have a lake for a front porch and a swimming pool where the garage floor used to be.

But of course this is not news to any of you, gentle readers, who have probably just sat back and relaxed for the first time in weeks, now that the house has slid down the hill and you can be comfortable in a motel.

The interesting part of it all is, that everybody is smiling. A lot of folks have very little reason to smile, either, considering the damage that has been done.

But neighbors just go ahead and help out, and the mud and water gets cleared out, some way . . . and people keep smiling.

This is short and sweet, because of the staff members are out bailing water and sweeping mud. I could only take time to write it because my umbrella failed in the clinch and is now getting repaired with a cold patch.

So, back to the storm. See you when the Sun shines, Nelly!

Letters to The Editor

NOT VERY CURIOUS
DEAR EDITOR:

If the "Curious Taxpayer who on Friday March 28 wrote the letter regarding the Lafayette Fire District had been more "curious" he or she would know that the present tax rate for the Fire District is 0.941 per $100.00 of assessed valuation and not $1.25 as stated in the letter you published. The 0.941 tax rate is made up of an operating tax rate of 0.874 and 0.067 for bonds.

I'm in favor of criticism and over the months have voiced my criticism of certain actions of the Commissioners. However, I don't venture a criticism until I have obtained the facts and it's obvious that the "Curious Taxpayer" has failed to do so. With this rather obvious error I question whether the remainder of the letter you printed is very factual.

It should be of interest to note that the 1957-58 assessed valuation of the Lafayette Fire District is $25,170,045 and that the Fire District that serves Concord has an assessed valuation of $59,230,650.00. The Fire District serving Walnut Creek has an assessed valuation of $55,291,630.00. I am of the opinion that assessed valuation should always be considered whenever we are talking about tax rates and the kind of service we desire.

Incidently, many of us were critical of building the Sub-Station for the Sheriff with district money, however that has been done and by a board elected by the people of Lafayette.

We should express our thoughts and wants to the District Comcissioners for I believe this assists them to formulate their decisions. We should continue to suggest to the Commissioners ways and means of improving conditions and keeping the tax rate as low as possible. But we certainly can't be of much help to them or ourselves by being ignorant of the facts—ignorant of such basic facts as the tax rate of one of the two completely local (Lafayette) special districts.

SCHOOL BOND DEFEAT
Dear Editor:

You asked recently why we voted down the school bond. Why don't we want our children to have better classrooms and supplies?

Please understand, we do—but this is the answer.

Have you, for example, ever visited one of these schools?

Take, for example, the Stanley Junior High district office. When we parents saw the new building going up we said, "Oh! That is probably going to be the new cafeteria or science building." When to our amazement the district officers moved in.

I believe there are many others as I who feel this was and is being very unfair to a school that is overcrowded. This to us is a waste of money. Sure, maybe they were crowded, but how about our children who could have used that space?

Many office buildings in town are a great deal more crowded than this district was. So I hope this answers some of the feeling of the people. Spend money for a needed cause and we will support the demand.

I attended a meeting at this same school recently. The question came up "Shall we do away with junior high graduation?"

This question will be discussed further. Again, editor, I feel as others do that our children should receive some consideration after having attended 8 or 9 years of school there.

It is right to cut expenses here? It seems cost should be corrected at the "home front" first. Maybe our voters aren't saying how they feel but they are discussing it among groups of friends and families.

Let's have a complete breakdown of spending for schools next time so we the public will know, then the public will know that the money is going for the cause we voted for.

"Snack" period has even been taken away from the children to cut down time.

If the state demands that an office employee has to have a break in the morning and afternoon, how then can they expect our children to be able to improve their learning ability if they have to sit in class from morning until noon and from 1 until 3:45 p.m. with a snack time? Still the district offices receives afternoon coffee for a coffee break.

Yes, parents, it's your children, why not—let's do a little more checking on our children's welfare.

WARY PARENT

SUGGESTION
Dear Editor:

Sun has taken the stand that the traffic problem between here and Lafayette By-Pass should be corrected at the earliest possible date. Keep up the good work!

Sun has also printed picture of the new freeway from the tunnel, going straight for a time then veering off to the left to tie in with the Eastshore Highway going south for the Oakland and East Oakland traffic.

That is very good, but why not continue the new freeway straight ahead and tie in to the Bridge and the Eastshore Highway going north for the West Berkeley, Richmond and points going north?

Inasmuch as probably half the traffic going thru the tunnel will go to San Francisco and northern parts, this should be given consideration. (The State Bureau of Highways should never forget that it was the commuters dropping in their quarters that paid for the bridge!)

Sun Strokes

By PAT PENDING

As you read this column all Christendom will be contemplating the meaning of this day—Good Friday. All of us know what happened many centuries ago on a hill near the city of Jerusalem for all the nations of the world were represented there—at Golgotha.

A Man was crucified and one of His last utterances was:
"Father, forgive them for they know not what they do."
Many of those present asked the question:
"What manner of man is this?"
And well they might.
It has been written:
"Greater love hath no man than to give his life for his friend."
This Man gave his life for His enemies.

Never, since the dawn of history, had any man suffered torture and death and, dying, asked for forgiveness for His executioners.

Some were there that day seeking vengeance. Some were there to scorn. But the thousands came to watch for two reasons: doubt and curiosity.

Many words have been written concerning the meaning of the "Original Sin."

In my humble opinion, the Original Sin was doubt.

Man doubted the Word of God. This unbelief led to disobedience and, thus, Mankind forfeited fellowship with his Creator. There can be no true fellowship when doubt exists.

The curiosity of Man has led him through the ages to many discoveries of physical nature. Now, he stands upon his little world, still curious, at the threshold of this universe seeking answers to the unknown mysteries of outer space.

Does it ever occur to Man that the unimaginable intelligence that created this world; this universe; and the countless galaxies of space; most certainly possesses ALL knowledge?

The doubt of Man concerning the Creator and His law has caused the human race untold misery. The law of the Creator is a NATURAL law and, when anything goes contrary to natural law, disaster is invited.

The antonym of doubt is belief.

The Man crucified on Golgotha's thee gave adequate proof of His divine love for all the world to see.

On the third day, He demonstrated the illimitableness of His power—generated from Eternity.

All that is required of Mankind is belief—a belief that will erase the Original Sin—doubt.

Pontius Pilate asked:
"What is truth?"
What could be more true than:
"Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart; with all thy soul; with all thy mind—and thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

DRIVING?

Mankind took thousands of years of bloody struggle to achieve a wholesome fear of war. Because of this fear we now spend half of our national income to prevent the consequences of war.

In less than 40 years we have generated the fiendish art of murder on the highways at a rate that should make every day a memorial day for our butchered gladiators. The 40,000 we slaughter annually, and the millions of cripples now hobbling through life bear somber testimony of our incomprehensible inhuman callousness to this greatest of all American tragedies.

INSTEAD OF SEEKING positive remedies, we buy faster autos, drink more, and take more chances. We also buy more automobile accident insurance, which we too often use as a substitute for common sense safety. And as if to atone for our childish behavior behind the wheel, we demand that courts use insurance to compensate for the loss of a limb, or the loss of a father, regardless of legal liability! While society condones the assasin, we complain bitterly that insurance rates are too high.

An analysis of California's traffic accidents indicates that Central Contra Costa drivers kill more, maim more, and destroy more property per capita than any other place in the state.

The many tears we shed are too soon forgotten. Accidents don't just "happen". Each and every accident is CAUSED by some operator's failure to heed the rules of safety.

Eighty-four per cent of Labor Day's 442 fatalities involved traffic violations, in addition to which one out of four was reported "drinking". And each of us still thinks that our personal misconduct behind the wheel will not involve US in an accident, for disaster always strikes "the other fellow". Yet statistics show that eight out of ten victims never experienced a previous accident!

THE AWFUL CONSEQUENCE is not, like some say, that the increase in insurance rates is straining the family budget. With our present frequency we can expect in 20 years in Central Contra Costa that AT LEAST ONE MEMBER OF EVERY 50 FAMILIES WILL EXPERIENCE A SUDDEN AND VIOLENT TRAFFIC DEATH, and EVERY FAMILY WILL HAVE AT LEAST ONE OF ITS MEMBERS HOSPITALIZED, with many emerging mutilated for life!

So Send Not To Learn For Whom The Siren Wails, it Wails For THEE!

CONFLICT
Dear Editor:

In connection with your excellent editorials upon the usage of county governmental facilities and personnel for private interests, I have recently observed two examples that show this is not confined to the district attorney's department.

At a supervisorial hearing held in December a county employe, the head of the county hospital, took time from his authorized duties to express his favor of a particular application for medical offices.

He indicated no financial interest in this development, but nevertheless he sought and obtained the consent of the county administrator in order to lend his influence for the benefit of the doctor applicants.

As a taxpayer, I am not supplying the salaries of Dr. Degnan or Mr. Teeter for activity in matters related to private interest.

Their authorized jurisdiction covers public interest, only. Since the Supervisors offered no comment or rebuke upon this, I assume that they condone such open, biased activity by county employes.

At a supervisorial hearing held in January, the Real Estate Broker applicant stated that he had obtained a planning department employe to assist him in making a parking survey. The applicant gave the results of this "unprejudiced" collaboration which, of course, confirmed his application.

The planning director, who was present, made no comment.

The fact that the application had been opposed throughout its course by three improvement associations, was ignored by the planning director who had arranged that his subordinate would assist only the applicant, apparently upon the applicant's terms.

As a taxpayer, I am not supplying the salaries of Mr. Heaton and his staff for purposes of giving comfort and assistance to private interests. If the applicant needed such a survey he should have spent his own money instead of the taxpayers, by hiring his own assistant.

If Mr. Heaton felt such a survey was necessary for the planning department's study of the application, he should have arranged for it to be done by his staff, alone, and he should have presented the results.

Here again, the supervisors offered no comment or rebuke so I assume they condone the open use of public employes and facilities for furtherance of certain private interests.

All levels of government contain current abuses, as we all realize. However, one wonders if the flagrant abuses presented for public view in these two examples are in exception or according to rule.

DOGS AND EDUCATION
Dear Editor:

Let us include the school tax issue in with the dog controversy. No doubt many will think it strange to incorporate two such controversial subjects, yet there have been many articles pro and con on both.

Perhaps some of us who voted No on the School Tax increase might reconsider, if we could be assured there would be provisions made for a portion of the tax increase to go toward the education of our younger generation to respect his fellow man's rights and property, and to further educate these youngsters in the art of animal training.

It is very apparent there must have been a lack of funds in the days of their parents' school days. To each an animal, the owner or teacher must know more than the animal.

A subscriber recently commented about the dogs barging at every one who dared venture onto a certain street. I know how he or she must feel. All you have to do is to venture into our neighborhood, via auto, truck or on foot. You will have the darndest menagerie yapping at your heels or wheels you ever saw or heard. Week ends are a lulu, some aren't content with one dog, they must have two.

How proud it must make a dog owner to see his brave dog chasing every car or delivery truck, baying at the top of his lungs, piercing the air that would otherwise be quiet and peaceful. However one has only to look the yard of some of these dog owners to realize they are not interested in promoting the beauty and cleanliness of the neighborhood in which they live.

A BOMB PROTEST
DEAR EDITOR:

I am the mother of four children. Dr. Edward Teller says we are not in danger from H-bomb tests and radioactive fallout, but 9,000 scientists say there is danger. No one knows how much radiation is safe, not even the Atomic Energy Commission. However, they agree that with each new test our children's chances of getting leukemia and bone cancer are increasing. Their chances of producing physically and mentally deformed children are increasing.

I wrote long ago asking the President for an end to these nuclear tests, but the President is listening to Dr. Teller—not to the 9,000 scientists. I represent no organization. I work alone in my house, becoming more discouraged, more desperate every day. Can we whose life job is raising children only expect the tragedy of diseased and deformed grandchildren and great-grandchildren? Or are there other American parents who care enough to demand an end to this poison we are pouring into the air?

JEAN H. TOZEN

Under The Sun

Attn: District Attorney! Here Are Some Questions

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

The 1956-57 County Grand Jury recommended "That the district attorney and his deputies be required to cease private practice and to devote full-time to their county duties . . ."

With this, The Sun heartily agrees. In fact, you will recall that we have been saying the same thing for years and years. But today's column is not going to be devoted to—"I told you so. . ."

I am, however, extremely pleased that an official and important group of prominent citizens has publicly recognized that there is a major problem in the office of our county district attorney. Other groups (attorneys, public officials, judges, Governor Knight) have realized this for a long time.

Research is needed

As a newspaper we have known and have written about the D. A. and his staff for years—but more or less in general terms. Unfortunately, we do not have a large enough staff to do a comprehensive, investigative study to document this problem. This is possible only by large metropolitan papers—and only the better ones do it.

It is also unfortunate that the hands of a grand jury are also tied. The jury is not given funds to hire an investigator, although past juries have asked for help. And no investigators are furnished by other county offices. Further, a grand jury investigating the D.A. is in a peculiar position; the district attorney sits with them and serves the jury as its counsel.

Here is interesting reading

Nevertheless, the law enforcement committee of the 1956-'57 grand jury courageously looked into the mess and issued some statements that have never been said before—as follows:

"In connection with its study of the district attorney's office, the committee heard expressions of concern from a great many quarters with respect to the policy of the district attorney of maintaining a private law practice and of permitting his deputies to have private law practices. A variety of criticisms of this practice were voiced, including the following:

"1. POSSIBILITY OF QUESTIONABLE LEGAL SOLICITATION: Citizens who seek the district attorney's assistance may wind up as clients of a deputy. When a case does not come within the county's jurisdiction, it is possible for the deputy to solicit the case for his private practice.

"2. POSSIBLE CONFLICTS OF INTEREST: In their private practices, the disirict attorney and his deputies become associated with many people. Some of these may violate the law. When this occurs, there may be a tendency to minimize the charges; perhaps accepting a plea to a lesser offense. In civil cases involving the county and a former client, there may be some tendency to be sympathetic.

"Even the most scrupulously honest individual finds it difficult to be completely objective in such situations. Assignment of a different deputy to handle such cases is not a satisfactory solution to the problem, because frequently the county would lose the services of the man best qualified by training and experience to handle the case. The solution of our Federal Government to this problem has been to prohibit the employee associations which might lead to conflict of interest."

Then, the grand jury recommended that the D.A. and his staff should be required to give up this lucrative private practice and devote full-time to county duties: "with this change in policy, increasing salaries should be appropriate." This ends the statement.

Let's ask some questions

Please note that the grand jury was polite and diplomatic in making these charges. They used the words "it is possible" or "may." But they tell the story very well. I find the following questions implied in the jury report:

1. How much time does the district attorney and his deputies spend on private law practice while on the county's payroll?

2. Why don't the district attorney and his deputies have their own private offices to conduct their private law practice?

3. Do they pay the county rent for use of county offices?

4. Why don't the district attorney and his deputies have their own telephones, secretaries, law libraries, etc., for their private practice?

5. When the D.A. and his deputies make phone calls over the county phones on their private law business, do they pay for them?

6. Do they reimburse the county for ALL private work done by county secretaries and clerks?

7. Do the D. A. and his deputies pay close attention to county law business—or is law enforcement sacrificed because of their own private law practice?

And more questions . . .

8. Why are so many charges against accused people reduced to lesser offenses? (For example, from drunk driving to reckless driving; from a morals offense to disturbing the peace.)

9. How often do citizens, who are seeking advice from the D. A., wind up as private clients? (I have heard of two cases where women went to the D.A.'s office to sign criminal complaints against their husbands for non-support. The deputy district attorneys replied that they would not get fast action in this manner. (Untrue—the husbands could be tossed in jail.) But, continued the deputy, the best approach is to secure a divorce. The deputy then became a private attorney—and explained the cost and procedure.

10. One final question: What links are there between the D.A.'s office and the major law firm in the county?

Let's get the answers

I have sent this column to District Attorney Francis Collins for his answer. The Sun will print his answer in full, devoting as much space as he wishes. Mr. Collins, we await your reply.

Wouldn't the answers to these questions be interesting?

Before I am accused of suppressing news, let me print another paragraph in the grand jury report:

"These recommendations regarding the district attorney's office are not intended as a criticism of District Attorney Francis Collins and his staff, who, we feel, are doing as sincere, conscientious and effective job as is possible under existing conditions."

This sweet, little statement is most amusing. The law enforcement committee devotes much of its report to what is obviously considers a real problem. And then Mr. Collins and staff are given a pat on the back! Obviously this was done as a compromise or to humor someone on the committee.

(Note: If you think the above is presented because Collins is running for reelection this year—you are right. But this very same information was presented in this column last July. At that time, Collins would not answer the questions. Let's see if he will do so, now that he is trying to get your vote.)

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

You go to my head . . .

I THINK THAT I SHALL never see, a hat I like MUCH on me. A hat to go w/lots of hair, one that takes me ANYWHERE. A hat that fits & feels just right, that comes home w/me every night, one not left THERE on the chair, EVERYWHERE!

Une tres petite & pretty cloche, for Bernease Lewis & Claire Roche. A cap by Schiap that would inspire, Hope Davenport, Ruth McIntyre. A feathered tocque for backward glances, THAT Georgette Walker takes no chances! A hat which goes w/rain or shine, a Sally Victor SO divine, a DASHING one for Pat Dildine.

A HAT TO STAND UP through the drizzles. One that doesn't FLOP, then frizzles! A Mme. Pauline piled high w/posies, for Lillian Brothers, and one w/rosies, for Laurie . . . and Dorrie.

A hat to wear w/THAT chemise, Mesdames, Mesdames Greathouse & Quinn (Louise)—A 20's hat w/beaded glamour, for Carolyn Hecathorn, Betty Collamer.

A hat that, once it's on, will stay there, a hat that once it's donned, won't STRAY there. A hat that's comfy, won't keep tiltin', for Blanche Brody, Esther Johnson, Betty Chilton. A hat that needs no comb or pin, that hugs the head of Win & Vin, a hat that's positively regal, for Lola Dyer, Margorie Segal. A hat to wear all day in town, for Elaine Moore, Tamara Brown. An upswept smoosh of straw, a SWISHER, for Emily Desmond & Margaret Fisher!

A HOWARD HODGE-designed chapeau, for all the gals w/lots of dough! A hat so very MADLY chic, that suddenly Strong Men are weak. A hat that causes lots of STARIN'—on Mildred Pridemore, Carolyn Barron. A priceless pancy-covered pillbox, for Georgia Lucas, Hazel Wilcox!

An IRENE hat with lots of IT, for Ramona Smith & Gail De Witt. A labeled hat from MR. JOHN, for Lois Heywood . . . Leave it ON!

Design us ALL an EMME TURBAN, one that's definitely Suburban! One that goes around the clock, for Phyllis Stuart, Libby Brock. POEMS ARE MADE by Fools, like THAT—but I CAN'T—can YOU? —wear a HAT?

All the eggs in one basket . . .

At the dinner table, one Sleepy Hollow fifth-grade fellow announced to his Very Important Papa that he'd been elected Chairman Of The Board. Duly impressed (like father, like son, y'know) Dad sat back, smiled proudly and said, "Why, Son, that's FINE! Tell me, which board is that?" And, said boy impatiently—"The Bulletin Board, Dad, the bulletin board!"

HIPPETY-HOP . . . Orinda's Mr. Music, Dick Dildine, went, like the mucis, round & round, Daddy-Whoa! when on a recent Sat. nite he first arrived at the Alameda O Club at 7:45 to start his orchestra there, dashed back to Berk. Claremont Hotel at 8:30 to give the boys the Downbeat THERE and by 9 PM skidded on stage at the Diablo Country Club to wield the baton for a dance THERE, where he remained the REST of the eve. A Music Maestro's Marathon!

A-TISKET, A-TASKET . . . When a pretty blonde Chick in pink sweater & skirt swung out the store at Lucky's Mkt. one day last week (& Spring being in the air SOMEWHERE!) each & everyone of the clerks, Yes Sir, RIGHT down the line, left their customers holding the bags and did an "EYES RIGHT!" simultaneously in the door's direction.

Which reminds us—ANY Comedian said it—"In the Spring a young man's fancy—In the winter, he's a slob!" . . . Tsk!

LITTLE GO BEEP . . . Lu Grimes tootling by in her new powder-blue Volvo . . . And Dr. Len Roth has switched from his ever-faithful Volkswagon to a Dutch-Blue Austin Healey that's REALLY appeal-ly! Two Tomato Soup Jobs,—the V-wagon belonging to Barbara Williams, the other owned by Jay Ainsworth, parked side by side in the Village. And a new Cad, EDAG! sooooo long it took up half the street it was parked on, an absolute menace w/it's out-to-THERE derriere!

COUNTRY CLOTHES-LINE . . . Dane Cook, shopping one afternoon LATE, in a brilliant royal blue spring suit, the print of her flower-splashed silk cloche hat matching the material of the blouse. VERY SMART looked she, just returning from SF where she lunched at the Palace and listened most impressed, to a top India diplomat speak at a World Affrs. Council meet.

Hopping down the bunny trail . . .

Around The World In 800 Days . . . Gene & June Estes and their two children fly off to Iran on a 2-yr. transfer w/Standard Oil comes Apr. 23 . . . June is busy packing & buying a 2-yr. wardrobe for the move that will take them to the Oil lands via four-day stopovers in the Islands, Tokyo & HongKong respectively. Inheriting the Estes' latchkey will be Bob & Geri Bonnar and their new baby who, by coincidence, are coming in from Ohio on a company transfer. The hearth will be theirs until Gene & June return sometime in 1960 after a 3-mo. touring of Europe en route home again.

NOW YOU KNOW . . . Those three starched red & white gingham shirts hanging often at Orinda Cleaners might JUST belong to Farmer McGregor, but they're really the shirts off the backs of the "boys" at Casa O . . . The Irv Moores celebed their FIRST ANNIVERSARY as owners of "THE WILLOWS", calling their friends & best customers in for a party last wk. . . .

Jim Denning who debuted w/the recent "ANNVY. WALTZ" Dramateurs—doing rec'd RAVES for his realistic facial grimaces as he shouldered a heavy TV set across stage. Truth of the matter is Our Boy had a TERRIBLE cramp in his shoulder which showed up at JUST the right moment for the SHOW. Charlotte Chapple's acting superb in this same vehicle, the talk of ALL who saw her, saying she was FAR superior to the professional playing the Grandmother's part on stage in SF.

DOWN THE BUNNY TRAIL . . . Ed Roberts, Chronicle Circ. Mgr., returning home tanned from a Phoenix trip . . . Evie was s'posed to go along but wouldn't you know—the kids came down w/the measles! When the John Dorrs Hula-landed last mo. they flew over on a commercial airline leaving their own pvt. plane behind & Over There, scared HALF the natives by hopping around the Islands in a small rented put-sput craft. The Jim Winfrees will probably hunt eggs in the Santa Cruz sanddunes where they spent the wk. NOT in sand dunes, in their cottage, of course! And the Edward McCormicks are going to pop Pignattas for THEIR eggs while in Mexico this Easter wk.

Easter time is the time for eggs . . .

SUITCASE SEASON . . . Bob & Dorothy Hampton of El Toyonal returned home from a NY & Philly jaunt and Del Brown of Loma Vista made a recent journey to Bangkok. Dee Seifert reunioned in the Southland w/old school chums this wk, and children along, Bill met them there, taking in Disneyland before the return trip here. The Jeff Larkins have joined Warren & Janet Yager for a funfoursome to Mazatland and Don & Inez Adams of Berk. Ave. and their Greg & Donnie were throwing snowballs in the high Sierras recently.

MAD MAD MAD HATTERS partied at Diablo Country Club last Sat. nite when members & guests tossed their annual Easter party. No hat, no admission. A pair of people, completely disguised as white-furred wabbits copped honors in the costume parade, having gone ALL OUT . . . Spencer & Jackie Archer and the Ted Schillings were there, Marie's svelte coif covered COMPLETELY by her dghtr. Susan's oversize sombrero weighted down w/grass, bunnies, eggs, baskets, chicks had EVERYBODY asking—"WHO DAT . . . under THAT hat?" . . . Clicking candids for the May issue of their DIABLO VIEW mag were the Alan Giellerups w/photog Don Jones and his wife, the foursome's toppers ALL trimmed trickily w/styrofoam cutouts of THAT snooty Devil, the key character that cavorts on cover & throughout the mag which made its FIRST appearance this week.

THE YEAR OF THE DOG . . . The DAY of the Guide Dogs For The Blind benefit being Wed. (last) we expect to be wading into the St. Francis for lunch to be followed by a tour of SF's most famous yachts. Local Guide Dog members who will probably brave the stormy weather w/their boots on incl. Mesdames J. M. Rodwell, Lloyd Reilly, Arthur Somers, A. H. Bastain, Claire Roche and Board member Ruth Walker. Rose Resnick, the Enchanted Hills Lady who has many friends hereabouts, was a recent recipient of one of the dogs trained in San Rafael. The Yacht Tour, accdg. to Ruth, serves to kick off their Membership Drive. If the weather doesn't wane, we're taking our water wings along.

THE GREASED PIG'S SCRAMBLE was the howling hilite of the Jr. Livestock Show at the Cow Palace enjoyed by 4H-ers Sylvia Cox, Natalie Hartanov, Laura Hupp, Lynn Loveland, Ruth Owen & Barbara Bole, Mrs. Ted (Virginia) Howes accompanying the group last Sun.

THE BIG QUESTION IS: Will the sun shine upon New Chapeaux? Really, the RAIN has GOT TO GO! NOW . . . WHERE did I put those water wings!

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

CONNIE KIENY
Guest Editor

Where's Ina? The boss gave her a week off so Ina, husband Dick and the children, Barrie Lee, Art and Ed took off for the 13th annual Bliesner family "Palm Sunday" re-union.

The annual get-together takes place on the senior Bliesner's ranch in Clovis (near Fresno) where their six children, their husbands and/or wives and 18 grandchildren gather from Fresno, Porterville Visalia and Clovis.

Grandma's and Grandpa's must be a real treat for everyone with horseback riding, swimming, ranch-style food and a whopper of an Easter egg hunt.

Bill and Florine Wilkerson of Concord will make an Easter vacation jaunt to Los Angeles for many family reunion parties. The children, of course, will be treated to a trip to Disneyland.

A little traveling music . . .

And while we're traveling, Orinda's Verla Krotz is off again; this time to Washington, D.C., where she got together for dinner with Edy Hartsough, formerly of Orinda, who moved to the Nation's capitol last summer.

As sodden as I feel right about now, this one sounds awfully good to me. Maxine Myer returned recently from four dry and restful weeks in Yuma, Arizona. She arrived back in time to help out at the Tanager's annual luncheon-card party and to display her beautiful new tan as a model at the Flamingo's fashion show and floral tea at Diablo Country Club.

JANE BROBECK OF ORINDA gave daughter, Kathy, a real birthday treat recently with a big Saturday in Carmel. Kathy's guests included three of her Miramonte friends, Zuzanne Lang, Sharon Gillespie and Nancy Grah.

Mrs. Paul Moore just returned from a few days at the Mark Thomas Inn in Monterey with house guests from Salt Lake City.

Among the snow and skiing crowd are David and Betty Colman who are enjoying the scenic wonders of Alta, Utah. The Harold Staff family spent the week at Lake Tahoe where the boys had a few more skiing lessons.

The Orinda Investors recently took their wives dinner dancing at the Athen's Athletic Club. It was a well invested evening according to the John Den Dulks, Elbert Waynes, Andrew Hartanovs, John Ogdens, Jim Davisons, Del Kays, Ted Schillings, Richard Copenhagens, Fred Twinings, and John Dorrs.

On the entertainer's list are the A. D. Henry's of Orinda who are hosting friends from Milbrae. They recently enjoyed a pre-theater dinner at Trader Vic's and then on to see "Middle of the Night" starring Edward G. Robinson.

Viva lassagne!

Here's one that sounds like fun! Janet and Dick Lieber of Cherry Lane, Walnut Creek, recently hosted in Italian fiesta complete with wine and lassagne for 20 friends in the Bay Area. The Lieber's newly completed rumpus room was decorated in travel posters, checked tablecloths and candles in wine bottles giving an atmosphere of old Italy.

The party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stone of San Francisco, included localites Mr. and Mrs. Ken Boorman of Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ireland and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross of Oakland.

The Bob Fugazi's lovely home on Parkland Drive, Walnut Creek, was bursting with gaiety and campaign slogans Sunday as friends gathered to wish Bob luck as one of the contenders for the local judgeship to be voted on in June.

BOB'S WIFE, MARILYN, as charming as ever in a beautiful pink and grey silk print with full skirt and a deep-cut back. Many of Marilyn's sorority sisters from the Diablo Alumnae of Alpha Xi Delta were in the guest line-up including the Gordon Hughes and Carter Miles of Walnut Creek and the Robert Gammons, William Bolces and Al Webers of Lafayette.

Diana Coleman striking as always in a bronze sheath cocktail dress with matching cocktail duster set off, of course, with that beautiful golden red head. And taking a break from their new babies for a few hours were the Sal Carusos and John Mozzettis of Walnut Creek.

Also boasting of new babies are Gail and John Hallgren who recently welcomed a new baby girl, Leslie Ann. Janis and Earle Romak have given young son, Mark, a new sister, Leslie Kim Romak.

Meanwhile, back in neverland

News of the Orinda Mother's Club dance at Diablo Country Club seems to surround us. Carrying through with the theme "A Night in Neverland" the ballroom walls were decorated with large silhouettes of Peter Pan characters.

Dancing to the music of Dick Dildine's band were Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin. Betty, president of the club, was tall, dark and glamorous in a white knit sheath. Particularly eye-catching were June (Mrs. Robert) Tharman in a blue-grey silk gown; Mrs. Jack Gilbert in a sheer black creation sparked by a bright red rose; Maudie (Mrs. Matt) Hammond in a new, new harem shirted frock of a pale printed material.

Also noted were the Bill Brocks, J. Gordon Ainsworths, Ramsey Underwoods and Frank Shireys. The Lloyd Rasmussens had a delicious pot luck supper for Charles Hill Road neighbors before the dance.

Still unpacking boxes and suitcases are Betty and Lloyd Smith as they settle down in their new home on Beryl Lane in Concord. Equally as busy are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Latham of Avelance Drive, Concord, as they entertain relatives from Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Other visitors in the area are Col. and Mrs. John R. Harris. The Colonel has been stationed at both Camp Stoneman and the Presidio and the Harris couple are enjoying revisiting familiar spots in the Bay Area.

MEMBERS OF ST. PERPETUA'S Women's Guild in Lafayette enjoyed an interesting and historical talk by Miss Vivian Juri last Tuesday night. Miss Juri is Women's Editor of The Monitor and spoke on the 100th centennial of this newspaper. Established 100 years ago in San Francisco. The Monitor's story naturally brings out the history of San Francisco and Miss Juri did an outstanding job of bringing this story to the St. Perpetua ladies.

Ina will be on the job next week. May we both wish you all a very happy and sunny Easter!

In July a convention will be held in Houston, Texas, with the following members expecting to attend: Alma Blakesley, Leah Belle Blodgett, Mary Lorentzen, Esther Marchant, and Edna Bedsworth. Soroptimist International of Lafayette - Orinda celebrate their second birthday on April 8.

LOTS OF WORK is going into the "Clown Ball", an annual dance planned by members of the Seabury Club of St. Pauls Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek. Mrs. Robert Neumann left, is general chairman, and Mrs. Richard Gaarde is heading another committee. The dance will be held next Friday at the Diablo Country Club.—Sun Photo by Richard Morse.

Mrs. Holman Leads Meeting

A program was held at the Walnut Creek Women's Club, March 25. It was a luncheon meeting, conducted by President Mrs. Ernest C. Holman.

"Steele and Hague—Words and Music" was a program of various areas of the world in ballad and folk song, including some of our own country.

Capt. Fortune Will Appear At Broadway Tomorrow

Famous TV Star To Present Four Shows for Children

Captain Fortune, the fabulous children's personality, will be on hand for four, fun-packed performances tomorroy at the Broadway Shopping Center, Walnut Creek, according to George Webster, chairman of the Broadway Merchants Association.

Captain Fortune, who appears every Saturday morning over KPIX-TV and who also creates the children's page of the San Francisco News, was to have appeared during the gala Broadway Festival of Values, but due to rain the performances were postponed.

CAPTAIN FORTUNE has won many national awards for his instructive and informative programs which range in scope from coverage of local children's news —such as interviewing visiting children from other countries— to games, quizzes and child participation games.

Many cooperative nurseries use his personally-developed games as instruction material.

CAPTAIN FORTUNE will perform tomorrow at 2, 2:30, 3 and 3:30 on a specially constructed stage in the parking lot across from Sterling Furniture Company. Free tickets for rides on Broadway Shopping Center Merry-Go Round will be distributed to all the children.

Concerning the appearance of Fortune Saturday, Webster said: "We hope all the children will take advantage of this opportunity to see one of their television favorities in person."

Schools Supt. Candidate Night Planned by PTA

Plans for a county superintendent of schools candidates night were discussed at an executive board meeting of the Mt. Diablo Council, PTA, last week at the home of Mrs. Allan Fuller, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Robert Love, school education chairman, is contacting the candidates and will set a date soon. It is hoped that two such nights will be set up for different area.

Mrs. Lawrence Green briefed the Board on final plans for the P.T.A. convention to held May 7, 8 and 9 in San Francisco. Mount Diablo Council will be housed at the Belvue Hotel at 505 Geary, and have reserved a suite for the use of Council and its units.

The board recommended all units have a School Education chaiman whose primary function would be as representative to School Board meetings and urge parents to attend.

The highlight of the meeting last week was a brief from Mrs. Thomas Hazlett, president, who has recently returned from the East where she underwent heart surgery.

Easter Seal Drive Lagging; Funds Needed

At the halfway mark of the Easter Seal campaign, officials of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults announced that $10,229 has been received from the mail campaign.

"We are running slightly ahead of last year," said Edward Munns, campaign chairman, "But we are still far short of our campaign goal of $50,000."

Munns added, "Continuance of our present activities is dependent on reaching our goal. An extreme hardship could result from curtailment of services to crippled children and adults of Contra Costa County.

Urgent requests for children's wheel chairs and walkers cannot be filled unless mail contributions begin to come in at an increased rate.

Donations may be mailed to Easter Seal Society headquarters, 240 South Sixth Street, Richmond, or to Crippled Children care of local postmaster.

SUPREME COURT

Frederick C. Kracke, Lafayette attorney and a candidate for the judgeship of the Walnut Creek Judicial District, was admitted to practice before the Supereme Court of the United States in Washington, D.C. on Wednesday, it was announced today by Walter P. Ruedrich, Orinda, general chairman of Kracke's campaign.

"Fred's admittance to practice before the Supereme Court of the United States is another recognition of his ability and stature in the legal profession." Ruedrich stated.

Kracke's sponsors for his admission to practice before the highest court in the land are Gardiner Johnson and Thomas Stanton Jr. of the law partnership of Johnson and Stanton at 111 Sutter Street, San Francisco.

DA RALLY

Over 400 supporters of the candidacy of John Nejedly for District Attorney will honor him at a dinner-dance and rally April 16 at 8 p.m. at the Diablo Country Club.

Dale Wright, Walnut Creek attorney and chairman of the event, says those interested in attending can call him of Anthony G. Lagiss of Lafayette.

KNOWLAND

Jack Pedder has been named chairman of the Knowland for Governor Committee in Lafayette. Pedder named three other Lafayette residents to assist him.

They are Jack Schneider, a democrat and operator of Orchard Nursery. He is a past president of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce and will form a Democrats for Knowland committee.

Also named was Claude Howell, a retired engineer, and Mrs. Marechal Duncan, also a Democrat, who will develop Lafayette Knowland for Governor clubs.

ATTORNEY GROUP

The Independent Attorneys' Committee, organized last January for the purpose of encouraging capable and qualified candidates to life for the office of Judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District, has now announced that by unanimous vote of its members it will endorse and support the candidacy of Jackson Davis.

John D. Den-Dulk of Orinda, chairman of the committee, named the following members.

William Shannon Parrish, Owen M. Gentry, William D. Douglass and John D. Den-Dulk of Orinda; William Channell, Frederic E. Van Dorn, Edward A. Goggin, Dale I. Stoops, Robert T. Anderson and Edward J. Rice of Lafayette; and Parley Anderson and Robert E. Cunningham of Walnut Creek.

Other attorneys joining in endorsing Davis include: Carl Vendt of Walnut Creek, Wallace Sedgwick, Burchard H. Styles, George L. Cooke, F. B. Fernhoff, James H. Freeman and M. P. Hallmark of Lafayette, and Nathan G. Gray of Orinda.

Four Now in Assessors Race

Four people have taken out nomination petitions for the office of county assessor, including one Clayton man and two Walnut Creek men.

From Walnut Creek are Warren R. Lamb, 46, and Ernest J. Marchi, 47. The Clayton resident is Oscar A. Johnson, 32.

The fourth petition was taken out by County Assessor C. L. Dunklee, who is seeking re-election.

Lamb is chief assistant county building inspector and has been employed by the county since 1949. He was graduated from Mt. Diablo High School and attended St. Mary's College.

Johnson, also a native of California, has been farming in Morgan Territory near Clayton for the past three years.

Marchi is a Walnut Creek realtor and appraiser.

If you drive an automobile remember this—the key to preventing traffic accidents is you yourself. Being courteous and cooperating with other motorists are the most important parts of driving safely.

Lagiss Will Work for Nejedly

Anthony G. Lagiss, Lafayette real estate broker, today was named chairman of John A. Nejedly's campaign for District Attorney of Contra Costa County.

Lagiss made the following statement in accepting the chairmanship of Nejedly's campaign.

"As a life-long resident of Contra Costa County, and one who has had a great deal of personal contact with our county government, I concur heartily with the Grand Jury and the governor that there are glaring deficiencies in the office of the incumbent District Attorney.

"Our county has long needed competent, full-time administration of this important office, and John Nejedly will provide it.

"I have known John for a number of years, and I have never known a more capable and devoted public servant in the county. He is exceptionally well-qualified for the office of District Attorney."

Knowland To Speak At Acalanes

U. S. Senator William F. Knowland arrives at Acalanes High School Auditorium, 1200 Pleasant Hill Road, Lafayette at 8 p.m., Thursday for his first Contra Costa address since his official filing of candidacy as Governor of California.

Mrs. E. Wells Smith, 1611 Second Avenue, Walnut Creek, is chairman of the Knowland meeting, assisted by Mrs. A. A. Nickel, 480 Arbol Via, Walnut Creek.

"Contra Costans plan a major welcome for Bill Knowland. A band, color guard, and motorcade will add to the typically Californian gaiety of this policital event. Hundreds of Senator Knowland's friends of both parties throughout Contra Costa have a hand in this Knowland welcome, serving on telephone committees and in similar groups," George Hauerken, Contra Costa Knowland for Governor committee chairman, said.

The April 10 motorcade will be headed by Mrs. Robert Hoover, of Lafayette.

Among committee chairmen planning the Knowland program are Jack Pedder, Mrs. Margaret Bainbridge, Jack Schneider, Mrs. Marechal Duncan and Claude Howell all of Lafayette; Philip Bancroft Jr., Mrs. Matt Connelly, both of Walnut Creek; R. D. Blanchard, Martinez; Joseph R. Longacre, Jr. Orinda; and Donald E. Kientz, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Rahn Files For Judgeship

Betsy FitzGerald Rahn, Walnut Creek attorney, filed her nomination papers for judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District last week.

Mrs. Rahn, a resident of Walnut Creek for over ten years, lives at 2073 Strand Road with her husband, Leon F. Rahn, and son, Michael.

"To avoid possible conflict of interests, as judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District I would devote full time to the position and would withdraw from the private practice of law," she said.

Mrs. Rahn has been actively engaged in law practice in California for 15 years. She has been practicing in Walnut Creek for over 6 years.

Mrs. Rahn is a past president of the Central Contra Costa Bar Association. Legal organizations to which she belongs are the State Bar of California, the Central Contra Costa Bar Association, the San Francisco Bar Association, Queen's Bench and Federal Bar Association.

Collins Names Dieterich County Campaign Head

County wide head of the campaign to reelect District Attorney Francis W. Collins at the June 3 primary election is James W. Dieterich of Orinda.

Dieterich, a resident of Orinda since 1927 and active in affairs of the region, is a San Francisco businessman and one time member of the Contra Costa County Grand Jury.

"I FEEL THAT Mr. Collins is a valuable public servant, a capable District Attorney, and a public official who should be retained in office for another four years because his is the type of public servant we in this county cannot afford to lose."

"In times like these when the people are so tax conscious, we need efficient, honest and conscientious public officials. From my contacts and experiences with the officials of this county I feel that Mr. Collins meets these qualifications."

"I HAVE BEEN acquainted with four Districts Attorneys in this county since I first made my home here," he said, "and I feel that in Mr. Collins we have a man who typifies the honesty, efficiency and ability so needed in all branches of government today," said Dieterich.

"I have found that Mr. Collins is available to the public, the department and office heads of the county, 24 hours a day and every day of the week.

"His full devotion to the county and to Contra Costans is something that cannot be found in all public officials today. I am going to work long and hard for the reelection of District Attorney Francis W. Collins," he said.

HOW SMALL can you get? seems to be the question asked of tiny Donna Ambrose, daughter of Walnut Creek parents, by Mrs. Gwen Leak, senior student at Merritt School of Nursing. The baby arrived March 13 at Merritt, three months early.

One Pound, 15 Ounce Baby Born to Ambrose Family

One new Walnut Creek resident who won't have to worry about dieting is one pound, 15 ounce Donna Marie Ambrose, born to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ambrose of 2868 Larkey Lane, March 13, at Merritt Hospital, Oakland.

The tiny baby was given one chance in 20 of surviving when she was born, and she actually to one pound 7½ ounces, before regaining her birth weight.

Many precautions have been taken, and she was even weighed inside her glass walled "isolette."

THE AMBROSES, Donald, a plumber, and Janet would have welcomed their third child in the middle of June, if things had gone according to schedule.

Their other children are Deborah, 4, and David, 2.

Donna's feedings of a special milk formula, administered through a little rubber tube, began with one teaspoon every three hours and have been increased to a little over four teaspoons six times a day.

The infant is very strong, according to Mrs. Genevieve Wiemers, head nurse in Merritt's nursery. Donna moves about in the isolette, not by crawling but by "working at it", and has even turned from her side to her stomach.

"THE DANGER to her eyes, which is a concern with premature babies, has been lessened because this baby has not required much oxygen," the Merritt medical staff pediatrician in charge said.

Donna will remain at Merritt until she is ready for her trip home to Walnut Creek.

Although smaller babies have survived, the pediatrician reported that 95 per cent of this weight do not live. American Medical Association recorded the survival of a 12 ounce baby girl born January 14, 1936 in Chicago.

Grandparents of the three Ambrose children are Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Ambrose, 28 El Gavilan, Orinda, Mrs. Fern Davis of Pittsburg and Carl Davis of Ukiah. Mrs. Kora Powell, 3256 Boyer Circle, Lafayette, and W. K. Davis of Ukiah are great grandparents.

Science Editor Will Address Diablo Forum

An informative and interesting talk on timely topics is in store for the Diablo Tuesday Morning Forum when Dr. Milton Silverman, science editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, appears as the guest speaker April 8 in the final program of the Forum's spring series at the Diablo Country Club.

Dr. Silverman has addressed Forum audiences on several occasions in the past and since his last visit has won the Lasker Medical Journalism Award for his article in the Saturday Evening Post on the use of new drugs for hypertension and mental diseases.

He is a native San Franciscan with degrees from both Stanford University and the University of California. His scientific research reporting has included articles on the development of the atom-smashing cyclatron, the First experiments of the "hot atoms" and the discovery of penicillin and the sulfa drugs.

Not only a science editor, Milton Silverman is also a trained scientist who does research in bio-chemistry in his own laboratory. He is well-qualified to present to the Forum audience his subject, "The Mighty Atom," having reported scientific "firsts" not only in the United States but in many parts of the world.

Mrs. Howard Flanders, Forum coordinator, reports that tickets, which include coffee at 10 a.m. followed by the 10:30 program, are available and that men as well as women guests are invited.

Greeting members and guests in the foyer will be Mrs. Kendric Morrish, with Mrs. Wilmer Denault and Mrs. Chester Hook in charge of the ticket baskets. Mrs. J. H. Gillan will decorate for the occasion and coffee hour hostesses will be Mrs. William Boyd, Mrs. Willard Reinheimer and Mrs. Thomas Brighton.

The Forum's standing committee of board members is composed of Mrs. Robert Bartlett, Mrs. John Blemer. Mrs. Stanley Friden. Mrs. William Hale, activities during the fall and spring series.

Cancer Society Office Has Ron Partridge Photos

An exhibit of photographs by Ron Partridge, nationally known photographer who resides at 706 Bear Creek Road, Orinda, is on display at the Contra Costa County Branch of the American Cancer Society, 2030 North Main, Walnut Creek.

The show is open to the public and will remain in this location throughout April.

The series shows "The Birth of Margaret," which was published in Look Magazine. According to Partridge ,the photos depict the arrival of his daughter and illustrate the point that the first few moments in a person's life are as important as any similar length of time.

"The frist moments of life seem to govern a person's outlook and personality," Partridge said.

The photographer's work is included in the "Family of Man" exhibit which has been viewed by more people throughout the world than any similar show.

A free lance photographer for the past 23 years, Partridge's work has been featured in national magazines and publications for a number of years.

State Dividend Benefits Schools In Contra Costa

Contra Costa County schools are richer today by $3737.93, representing a second dividend from the State Compensation Insurance Fund for their safety record in 1953-54.

All county schools, explained Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga, are covered by a blanket policy, under which more favorable premiums are realized than under separate policies.

The second dividend, 5½ per cent of the premium, is in addition to a previous dividend of 17½ per cent. Apparently after audit of the books, the additional dividend was found to be available, said De Fraga.

Pro-rated shares of the dividend ranged from 46 cents for Briones Valley to $859 for Richmond Elementary and $693 for Richmond Union High School Districts and $722 for Mt. Diablo Unified.

De Fraga added that even a second payment, however, did not bring the 1953-54 dividend up to the 52 per cent rebate on last year's premium. The latter rebate resulted from an unusually low rate of accident claims, the assistant superintendent explained.

Lily Pons is Acalanes Concert Future Offering

Lily Pons, famed member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will sing at Las Lomas High School Auditorium in next season's first offering of the Acalanes Community Concert Association.

This was announced after a board meeting held Friday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Dennis Pleasant Hill.

"Since we now have the Las Lomas Auditorium which seats 2000 persons we feel that for the first time we can have the kind of concerts the community wants and deserves," said Oscar Busch, president of the Association.

THE TENTATIVE plan now is to follow the Pons concert with three others including perhaps the San Francisco Ballet, the Robert Shaw Chorale, a famous pianist or a folk singer.

The concert board also decided to celebrate the use of the new hall by giving the community a chance to hear the final number of this year's series. Jon Crain, San Francisco Opera tenor, will appear in the Las Lomas hall on April 23.

The plan is to offer this concert as a free gift to anyone who will purchase a next year's membership before that April 23 date.

MEMBERSHIPS ARE $6 for adults and $3 for students. Persons desiring to take advantage of this offer should bring their $6 to the Crain concert at 8 p.m. on April 23. They will be admitted and given their memberships for next year's series.

Or they may phone Mrs. Walter Gray or Oscar Busch for details.

"The concert association has been active in this community for 12 years, and now with the large auditorium we can for the first time offer programs which will compete with the best San Francisco or Berkeley can offer," said Busch.

WORD TO THE WISE GARDENER

Easter is the time for colorful plants and bright gardens. You can find all the ingredients here at the nursery.

Azaleas lead the parade of color in Easter gift plants. We have them in all colors and many sizes. And Easter Lilys, of course, from one of the Bay Area's finest growers. We are just as proud of them as he is!

Birds are a lot of fun on a quiet day in the garden. Why not enjoy them more with a handsome bird bath? Bob Murray found some fine models in shades of antique green and Carmel sand. He would like to have you see them soon.

Now's the time to think about a more colorful garden. Success is practically assured when you plant the finest annual bedding plants available. We feel ours are superior because we grow our own. Almost everything is ready now. Come in and let Bob Cowden and Gus Breuer show you!

Sideline Slants

Of Fountain of Youth, Salome and Ball Clubs

By ERWIN MATTSON

PHOENIX, Ariz. (March 30)—I sit writing this in Phoenix, where the sun shines every day and the balmy air seems like he legendary fountain of Ponce De Leon in that it gives one a new lease on life.

This is truly a firm part of the old west and as such has its share of early day native and Indian legends.

On my way to Phoenix I passed the river Hassayampa, named by the Indians. Their legend has it that anyone who drinks its waters will never tell the truth again. I haven't drank as yet so what I put down is the truth.

The big league ball clubs are here—four in number—as they have found it an ideal training sit with its springtime warmth.

The clubs here are the San Francisco Giants, the Baltimore Orioles, the Cleveland Indians, and the Chicago White Sox.

☆ ☆ ☆

My particular interest lies with the Giants and the Orioles, as Bill Rigney of Walnut Creek manages the former and Don Ferrarese, ex Acalanes, pitches for the latter.

THE PAPERS ARE FULL of the big league day-by-day play and practice doings.

Ferrarese pitched yesterday when Baltimore defeated Chicago 7-4. Ferrarese relieved in the 7th and to quote the Arizona Republic "turned in the day's best pitching job, giving up no hits and no runs the rest of the way."

I will get to see Don this afternoon when the team plays in nearby Scottsdale.

The area, as stated, is full of interesting stories—one in the name of a nearby town—"Salome." It seems that the famous dancer once performed there and the local population was so impressed that they named the town after her.

This afternoon I will be watching the big league throwers. Though they are the best, it's doubtful if they have as big a curve or as good a movement as Salome. But let someone throw a no-hit, no-run game and it wouldn't be too surprising to see a town named after him. Such is the hospitality of this wide-open-space country.

☆ ☆ ☆

Back from the game which was played in a beautiful park in Scottsdale, a town that is a sight to see as houses and store fronts have been designed to bring back the good old days:

THE BALL GAME was a good one, going eleven innings before the Chicago Cubs wound it up with a 2-1 win.

Found out that Don Ferrarese had shoulder trouble but treatments have brought him around and he looks to be in good form—especially on the basis of his last outing.

Word has it that Baltimore has its best club and should wind up in the first division.

Saw another Bay Area performer in Ron Hasen, who played for Albany when they were in the Diablo Valley Athletic League.

He is a shortstop and while he had to lay out last year with back trouble an operation seems to have him in good repair.

He plays shortstop, fielded flawlessly, and got 1-2 with a line drive single.

Saw such players as Larry Dobey, Gus Tuanda, Connie Johnson and Dale Long, to mention a few.

Tomorrow, Monday, I will see the Giants in action with Bill Rigney at the helm. More on them in the next article. One thing certain, it will be nice to write about such a "real guy." He is tops with everyone who knows him.

Knight Mermen, Show Strength, Power in Meet

The Las Lomas Knight swimming team showed depth and power when their junior varsity defeated the San Ramon varsity 82-10 and their frosh outswam the San Ramon Bees 53-19.

In a three-way meet held with Acalanes and the Cal Frosh at Berkeley on Wednesday, March 19, it was Las Lomas again as they rolled up 68 points. Acalanes was runnerup with 54, while the Cal Frosh were down with 29.

On a dual meet basis, Los Lomas defeated the frosh 64-22 and Acalanes 50-36.

Don Nine Drops Game To Berkeley

The Acalanes Dons were really off their stick last Monday, March 24, when they crossed bats with Berkeley High at Berkeley.

The Berkeley nine gathered 11 runs on nine hits, while Acalanes had a lone run on four hits.

The Dons run came in the opening frame when Dave Bojarsky hit a legitimate double to right field but made it a round tripper when the ball got mired in the mud on the attempted relay throw.

Big Denny Toll, frosh right hander, started on the mound for the Dons and was off to a fine start in the first frame when, after walking the first batter, he struck out the next three in apple pie order.

In the second frame he had two down when errors, walks and hits opened the flood gates with Phil Leal relieving but six runs crossed the plate on three hits before the inning ended.

Berkeley added two runs in the third, and three in the fourth to insure the win.

Mike Kritschen, junior southpaw, hurled the final three frames for the Dons.

Acalanes Club Whips Brentwood

The Acalanes Dons finally got in a baseball game on Tuesday, March 18, after a week of rain, and took full advantage of it, rapping out 10 hits and collecting a like number of runs for a 10-0 win.

The game played at Brentwood found the Dons getting an early lead when Dave Bojarsky singled and scored in the opening frame.

Three more tallies came in the fourth, four in the fifth, and the final two in the seventh.

The Dons' cause was aided by shut-out pitching with Gary Hansen going the first two innings, Mike Kritschen the next four, and Lou Cosso winding up the final inning.

The Liberty High nine got but two safeties, a single in the fourth and another in the seventh.

Top strikers for the Dons were Jim Holden (2 x 3), Dave Bojarsky (2 x 5), and Lou Cosso (2 x 5).

TB Group to Hear General On April 16

Brigadier General Crawford F. Sams, M. D., U. S. Army (Retired) will be the guest speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association, it was announced today by Mrs. George W. Chapman, Program Chairman.

The meeting will be held at the El Rio Hotel in Antioch on April 16, at 8 p.m.

Sams, who retired in 1955, is former chief of public health for the Army in the Paif area and is at present working on project "Civil" at the University of California's Engineering Field Station in Richmond. He will discuss radiation hazards. ?

Also on the agenda for the evening is the election of new officers and board members, a short progress report by Henrik L. Blum, M. D., Contra Costa County Health Officer, and entertainment by the Richmond Physician's Board. Kenneth McPhee, president of the TB Association, will preside.

Local Jews Celebrate Passover

Commencing at sunset this evening, April 4, Jews throughout the world will start the observance of the Passover Holiday, which lasts for the Reformed Jews for one week and for the Traditionalists for eight days.

The seder dinner, which is a special service observed both at the beginning and at the end of the Passover period will be conducted by the League of Jewish Women in Contra Costa county under the chairmanship of Mrs. Percy Cohen at the Lafayette Jewish Community Center Building, starting at 6:30 p.m. today.

Dr. H. Hirsch Cohen, Rabbi of the Jewish Community Center here, will lead the seder service and the members of the community will join with him in the recitation of the prayers for peace and understanding among all the peoples of the world.

They will eat of the Matzos, the unleavened bread or bread of affliction, to remind them of the suffering of their fellow Jews and of mankind. They will aiso partake of the bitter herbs, and salt water to remind them of the sadness, bitterness and tears shed throughout the centuries of suffering and persecution. Just as here, in synagogues, homes, community centers—wherever people may gather for the celebration of the festival—Rabbis and laymen alike will recite again the ancient tale of the struggle for human liberty, the biblical story of the Exodus. The symbolism of the traditional and commenrative foods will be explained, songs will be sung, and prayers recited.

In discussing the Seder services, Rabbi Cohen said that the Last Supper was a Seder Dinner, and that it was from this that the communion wafer and wine emananted.

The dinner will be catered by Mrs. Mary Doyle, of Berkeley.

PTA Men's Breakfast Is Planned

"Bringing Up Father in P.T.A." will be the theme of the second Men's Breakfast to be held in the Diablo Room of the East Campus Contra Costa College on April 27.

Mt. Diablo Council of P.T.A. is sponsoring this breakfast and has invited the Alhambra Council to join in sending fathers, teachers and principals to discuss P.T.A. in a buzz session type of program.

Dean Gaudette, principal of Holbrook Heights, Concord, Glenn Max, principal of Murwood, Walnut Creek, James Carrier of Clyde and Mrs. Gordon Hommer announced all reservations must be made before April 20.

A tape recording of the last breakfast was made and will be used for a guide in planning this one. Moderators for the discussion groups will be announced later.

Working women today take home one-fifth the total wages and salaries in the U. S.

Builders Hear Economist Dr. Nathaniel Rogg

"The Home Building Industry cannot by itself revive the Nation's economy, although in 1958 it should be a strong support," members of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County were told at a dinner meeting at the El Nido Restaurant in Lafayette by Dr. Nathaniel H. Rogg, director of the Economics Department of the National Association of Home Builders, Washington, D. C.

The Contra Costa Association is a chapter of that association.

Dr. Rogg advised them that the home building industry had chanrged the nation from a nation of rentors in 1940 when there were 11,000,000 or 40 percent home owners to a nation of home owners in 1958, when 27,000,000, or 60 percent are home owners.

Hawaii Junket Planned Here

A three-week vacation in Hawaii, for Contra Costa residents, is now being planned by Worden Travel Services, of Walnut Creek and Orinda.

Toursits will board buses for San Francisco on June 23 and will take the five-day cruise to Hawaii aboard the S. S. Matsonia. During their stay in the islands, vacationers will stay in the heart of Waikiki, at the Princess Kaiulani.

The visit to the islands will include several air junkets, a visit to pineapple and sugar plantations and an authentic island luau, where guests will have the opportunity to sample Hawaiian food and see island entertainment.

On the last day, a dinner dance will culminate the island holiday. The visitors sail for the states on July 10 and arrive back in San Francisco on July 15, to return to Walnut Creek by special buses.
